INTRODUCTION.

The City has annually since 1821 issued a volume containing, until 1829, a register of the City Council and a list of the officers. In 1829, the City Charter, in 1830, the Acts relating to Boston and the ordinances, and in 1832, an index, were added. The volume for 1822 contains fifteen pages, and for 1840 eighty-five pages, and three pages of index. The volumes up to and including 1840 bear the title of The Rules and Orders of the Common Council, and since that year the title of THE MUNICIPAL REGISTER. THE MUNICIPAL REGISTER for 1841 contains the Rules and Orders of the Common Council, joint rules, ordinances of the City, statutes of the Commonwealth relating to the City, a list of the public schools, the City Government of 1841, the committees and departments (consisting at that time of the treasury, law, police, health, public land and buildings, lamps and bridges, fire, and public charitable institutions), and a list of the ward officers; from 1842 to 1864, it also contains a list of the members of preceding City Governments, a necrological record of those members, the latest ordinances and the special statutes relating to the City; in 1851 a list of the annual orators was added, and in 1853 a map of the City and the Rules of the Board of Aldermen were inserted; in 1876 statistics of registration and voting were included, and since 1879 in tabulated form; in 1883 portraits of the Mayor and presiding officers of the two branches of the City Council were included, and in 1888 a list of the members of the past City Governments of Roxbury and Charlestown was added, and continued to 1890. From 1889 to 1896, inclusive, THE MUNICIPAL REGISTER contained a compilation of the Charter and Acts subsequently passed, in the place of which an index of said Charter and Acts was substituted in 1897. The Boston charter and index are again omitted this year; otherwise THE MUNICIPAL REGISTER of this year is in substantially the form of all other MUNICIPAL REGISTERS since 1889.

By the direction of the Joint Committee on Rules and Orders THE MUNICIPAL REGISTER of 1905 has been compiled by the Statistics Department. Text and tables have been revised, and several new tables, with additional text, have been incorporated.

ORIGIN AND GROWTH OF BOSTON.

The Royal Patent incorporating the Governor and Company of Massachusetts Bay in New England passed the seals March *4, 1628–29. At a General Court, or Meeting of the Company, on August *29 of that year it was voted "that the Government and patent should be settled in New England." To that end Governor Winthrop led the Puritan Exodus in 1630. Soon after his arrival at Salem on June *12, 1630, he proceeded with a large following to Charlestown, where a plantation had been established the summer before. The Assistants held three Courts at Charlestown in the interval, August *23 to September *28, inclusive. At their meeting on September *7, they "ordered that Trimountaine shalbe called Boston; Mattapan, Dorchester; and the towne upon Charles River, Waterton." Thus Shawmut of the Indians was named Boston, probably out of gratitude to the Merchants of Boston in Lincolnshire, who had subscribed generously to the stock of the Company.

In the course of the summer, Governor Winthrop with the patent chose Boston as his abiding place. The first "Court" held in Boston was a "General Court" on October *19, "for establishing of the government." On October *3, 1632, Boston was formally declared to be "the fittest place for publique meetings of any place in the Bay."

Boston was the first town in Massachusetts to become a city. It was incorporated February 23, 1822, by St. 1821, c. 110, adopted March 4, 1822. This act was revised by St. 1854, c. 448, commonly called the City Charter, adopted November 13, 1854.

The neck of land called Boston, still called Boston Proper, contained perhaps 700 acres of land, judging from the 783 acres shown by the official survey of 1794. In the interval 1630–37, Boston acquired jurisdiction over most of the territory now included in Chelsea, Winthrop, Revere, East Boston, Brookline, Quincy, Braintree, Randolph and Holbrook, besides certain islands in the harbor. From 1637 till May 13, 1640, when "Mount Woollaston" was set off as Braintree, Boston exercised jurisdiction over a territory of at least 40,000 acres. Within its present limits there are only 27,300 acres, including flats and water.

Since 1640, grants of land have been made to Boston by the General Court as follows: (1) October *16, 1660, 1,000 acres "for the use of a free schoole, layd out in the wildernesse or North of the Merimake River" (in Haverhill), in 1664. (2) June *27, 1735, in abatement of Province Tax, three townships, each six miles square, or 69,120 acres in all. These townships later became the Towns of Charlemont, Colrain, and Pittsfield. Boston sold its interest in them June *30, 1736, for £3,660. (3) June 26, 1794, a township of land in Maine (23,040 acres) "to build a public hospital." This tract was sold by the City April 6, 1833, for $4,200.

Muddy River was set off as the Town of Brookline on November *13, 1705, and Rumney Marsh was set off as the Town of Chelsea January *8, 1739.

The principal annexations of territory included within the present limits of the City of Boston, have been made as follows:

(1) Noddle's Island, by order of Court of Assistants, March *9, 1636–37. (2) South Boston set off from Dorchester, March 6, 1804, by St. 1803, c. 111. (3) Washington Village set off from Dorchester, May 21, 1855, by St. 1855, c. 468. (4) Roxbury, January 6, 1868, by St. 1867, c. 359, accepted September 9, 1867. Roxbury received its name by order of the Court of Assistants, October *8, 1630. It was incorporated a City, March 12, 1846, by St. 1846, c. 95, accepted March 25, 1846. (5) Dorchester, January 3, 1870, by St. 1869, c. 348, accepted June 22, 1869. It received its name September *7, 1630, by order of the Court of Assistants. (6) Brighton, January 5, 1874, by St. 1873, c. 303, accepted October 7, 1873. Set off from Cambridge as the Town of Brighton, February 24, 1807, by St. 1806, c. 65. (7) Charlestown, January 5, 1874, by St. 1873, c. 286, accepted October 7, 1873. Settled July *4, 1629. It was incorporated a City, February 22, 1847, by St. 1847, c. 29, accepted March 10, 1847. (8) West Roxbury, January 5, 1874, by St. 1873, c. 314, accepted October 7, 1873. It was set off from Roxbury and incorporated a Town, May 24, 1851, by St. 1851, c. 250.

THE CITY SEAL

As it appeared prior to 1827.

The City Seal was adopted by "An Ordinance to Establish the City Seal," passed January 2, 1823, which provides "That the design hereto annexed, as sketched by John R. Penniman, giving a view of the City, be the device of the City Seal; that the motto be as follows, to wit: 'Sicut patribus sit Deus nobis'; and that the inscription be as follows:—'Bostonia condita, A.D. 1630. Civitatis regimine donata, A.D. 1822.'" The motto is taken from 1 King's, viii., 57.

The seal as it then appeared is shown above.

The seal as it was afterwards changed, and has ever since continued to be used, first appeared on page 221 of the volume of laws and ordinances, commonly known as the "First Revision," published in 1827, and is continued as the City Seal at the present time by Revised Ordinances of 1898, Chapter 1, Section 5, which provides that "The seal of the City shall be circular in form; shall bear a view of the City; the motto 'Sicut Patribus Sit Deus Nobis,' and the inscription, 'Bostonia Condita, A.D. 1630. Civitatis Regimine Donata, A.D. 1822,' as herewith set forth."

The seal as changed in 1827, and as it has ever since appeared, is shown opposite the title page.

That board had in substance the same powers as the present Board of Health, and was abolished by the first city charter. From 1822 to 1873 the functions of the board were exercised through the City Council. The present Board of Health was established by an ordinance of December 2, 1872, and organized January 15, 1873. The trustees of the Public Library of the City of Boston, who are five in number, are appointed by the Mayor, one each year, for a term of five years. They were incorporated by an act of the General Court passed April 4, 1878, and are authorized to receive and hold real and personal estate which may be given, granted, bequeathed or devised to the said corporation, to an amount not exceeding $1,000,000. The first trustees were appointed under an ordinance of October 14, 1852. The old Library Building on Boylston street was opened to the public in September, 1858, and closed finally in January, 1895. The new Library Building on Copley square was first opened on March 11, 1895. The Library is maintained by an annual appropriation voted out of the general funds of the City by the City Council. About $29,000 was used in 1904 for the purchase of books and periodicals. The Library also holds trust funds aggregating $385,150, the interest of which is devoted to the purchase of books.

The annual reports, the first of which appeared in 1852, have been continued without interruption.

Of the Quarterly Bulletins, which were begun in 1867, fourteen volumes have been published. The series closed in 1896.

A Monthly Bulletin is now issued. The trustees have issued also general and special catalogues of the Central Library, and of its branches and special collections, as well as hand-books for readers, and other documents.

LIBRARY SYSTEM.

The Library system consists of the Central Library in Copley square; ten branch libraries with independent collections of books; twenty-two stations, all of which contain deposits of books from the Central Library, while fourteen contain deposits, reference books and periodicals, and are classed as reading-rooms. Excluding the twenty-two stations, there were, on February 1, 1905, in the Central Library and Branches, including the evening and Sunday service, 398 employees.

Between the Central Library and these thirty-two stations, by Library wagons and local expresses, there is a daily exchange of books and cards, whereby persons living in outlying districts can draw books from the Central Library without the necessity of coming in person.

The delivery or deposit of books is also undertaken in one hundred and three public and six parochial schools, twenty institutions and forty fire company houses.

Cards allowing the use of two books without restriction as to class, for two weeks, are issued to all residents of Boston with no further attendant delay than is involved in identification. No guaranty is asked, except in case of a sojourner. Such cards are also issued to non-resident pupils attending Boston schools who furnish guaranties. For reading and reference the Library is open to all without formality. Special cards for more extended privileges are issued to clergymen officiating in the City, and to teachers giving instruction in Boston institutions of learning; a special card is also issued in certain cases by the trustees. On February 1, 1905, there were 73,211 card-holders having the right to draw books for home use. The total number of volumes was 871,050, of periodicals currently received about 2,300. Books issued in 1904, for home use, numbered 1,509,086; of reference use, on account of the freedom with which books may be consulted, no adequate statistics are kept.

By Stat. 1902, Chap. 534, accepted by the voters of Boston at the Municipal Election of 1902, the term of the commission was further extended to July 1, 1906.

The commission had charge of the construction of the Tremont-street subway, of the Charlestown bridge, and of the tunnel to East Boston, and is now carrying out the provisions of the Act of 1902.

This Act provides for a tunnel so designed as to be adapted for the accommodation of two tracks especially for use by elevated cars and a subway for two tracks especially for use by surface cars, from a point near the junction of Broadway and Washington street to Adams square, Haymarket square, or Causeway street.

The structure for the two tracks for elevated cars is to be begun immediately, and the structure for the two tracks for surface cars shall not be begun until the expiration of at least one year after the completion of the subway for elevated cars.

The balance of the cost is to be paid, one-half by the City of Boston and one-half by the City of Cambridge.

The commission was also, in 1904, empowered to construct a new high-level bridge, not exceeding 70 feet in width and to be known as the "Brookline-street bridge," over the tracks of the Boston and Albany railroad and across the Charles river, between Essex street, Boston, and Brookline street, Cambridge, and substantially on the site of the present Essex-street bridge; and to rebuild the present bridge across Charles river, between North Harvard street, Boston, and Boylston street, Cambridge, the new bridge to be known as "Soldiers' Field bridge," and to be built with or without a draw, as the commission may determine.

COMMISSIONERS.

This commission was appointed by Mayor Collins on June 7, 1904, in accordance with Stat. 1904, Chap. 333, which required the Mayor to appoint a commission to divide the City of Boston into two districts, viz., "District A," the greater part of the buildings in which are used for business or commercial purposes, and in which the Act allows buildings to be erected not over 125 feet above the grade of the street; and "District B," the greater number of the buildings in which are used for residential purposes or for other than business or commercial purposes, in which the Act allows buildings to be erected not exceeding eighty feet above the grade of the street. The Act provides that the boundaries of the districts established by this commission shall continue for a period of fifteen years from the date of recording in the Registry of Deeds the order of the commission establishing the said boundaries.

The commission passed an order establishing the boundaries of the districts on July 13, 1904 (See City Document No. 91), and, in accordance with the provisions of the Act, on December 3, 1904, passed another order revising the boundaries. (See City Document No. 109.)

MANAGERS OF THE FRANKLIN FUND.

BOARD OF MANAGERS.

Patrick A. Collins, Chairman.
James J. Storrow, Secretary.

MANAGERS.

Patrick A. Collins, Mayor of Boston, ex officio.
Rev. Charles W. Duane, Rector of Christ Church, ex officio.
Rev. James Eells, Pastor of First Church in Boston, ex officio.

Rev. Alexander K. MacLellan, Pastor of First United Presbyterian Church, ex officio.

Richard Olney, William Endicott, Henry P. Bowditch, Henry S. Pritchett, Nathan Matthews, Charles T. Gallagher, James J. Storrow, Frank K. Foster. Appointed by the Supreme Judicial Court.

The Franklin Fund is the proceeds of a bequest of one thousand pounds to "the Inhabitants of the Town of Boston in Massachusetts" made by Benjamin Franklin, in a codicil to his will dated June 23, 1780. The codicil provided that the fund "if accepted by the Inhabitants of the Town of Boston" be managed under the direction of the Selectmen, united with the Minister of the oldest Episcopalian, Congregational, and Presbyterian Churches in that Town," who were to make loans on certain conditions to "young married artificers under the age of twenty-five years."

Dr. Franklin, who died April 17, 1790, calculated that, in one hundred years, the thousand pounds would grow to £131,000, "of which," he says, "I would have the managers then lay out at their discretion £100,000 in Public Works which may be judged of most general utility to the Inhabitants. The remaining £31,000, I would have continued to be let out on interest for another hundred years. At the end of this second term, if no unfortunate accident has prevented the operation, the sum will be £4,061,000, of which I leave £1,061,000 to the Town of Boston, and £3,000,000 to the disposition of the Government of the State, not presuming to carry my views farther." The Town accepted the donation at a Town Meeting held June 1, 1790.

A futile suit brought by the Franklin heirs in 1896 prevented the division of the fund at the expiration of one hundred years; but on January 17, 1894, by direction of the three Ministers and the Board of Aldermen of the city, which board claimed to be the successors of the "Selectmen," $329,300.48 ($\frac{100}{131}$ of the fund) was paid to the City Treasurer, for "the purchase of land and the erection thereon of the Franklin Trades School and for the equipment of the same." Owing to a series of complications the money has remained in the custody of the Treasurer. Mayor Collins, in 1902, caused a petition of the City to be filed in the Supreme Court, praying for instructions as to the authority of the persons then acting as managers of the fund. The Court rendered an opinion November 25, 1903 (184 Mass. 373, page 43), to the effect that neither the Mayor nor the Aldermen were managers, but that the managers were the three Ministers together with nine others, including the Mayor, ex officio, whom the Court should appoint. The nine persons named above were appointed on March 16, 1904. On October 20, 1904, the balance of the fund was turned over to the City Treasurer, in accordance with a vote of the Board of Managers that that official for the time being should act as treasurer of the entire fund.

On January 31, 1905, the fund available for expenditure by the managers amounted to $412,401.12, and the residue, which, with its accumulations (will become available in 1991), to $157,647.90.

WARDS.

New wards were established for the city in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-five, the first division into new wards since the year 1875.[1] An attempt was made by the City Council to make a new division of wards in the year 1885, and an ordinance to that effect was prepared by a special committee appointed for the purpose and passed by the City Council, and approved by the Mayor.[2] Certain questions were raised, however, in the General Court of 1886, relative to establishing State, senatorial and representative districts, and as to whether such districts should be established according to the territorial boundaries of cities and towns and their wards as they existed on the first day of May, 1885, or whether new ward lines, as in the case of the city of Boston, should be followed. On May 21, 1886, the opinion of the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court was asked by the Legislature on this matter, and they decided that the district divisions referred to must be made according to territorial and other boundaries existing on the first day of May, 1885, and that the new ward divisions were illegal.[3] On account of this opinion of the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, an act was passed by the Legislature in June, 1886,[4] which provided that the several wards, precincts, and assessment districts of the several cities of the Commonwealth, existing May 1, 1885, should be established as the wards, precincts, and assessment districts of said cities, any acts or ordinances of the city councils of said cities to the contrary notwithstanding. The new division of wards was thus set aside and the ward lines established in 1875 remained in effect until they were changed in 1895, and established under the provisions of Chap. 417, of the Acts of 1893, as follows:

WARD ONE.

Beginning at the intersection of the Harbor Commissioners' line and the division line dividing the property of the Alonzo Crosby heirs and Richard F. Green; thence by the Harbor Commissioners' line to the † These figures are made up to cover the geographical area originally belonging to each subdivision, which had not been done in previous censuses. If the same territory be assigned to each division in 1900 as in 1895, the figures for 1900 would be South Boston, 70,161; Dorchester, 64,648; West Roxbury, 42,407 and Roxbury, 110,732 instead of those given in the table. See Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Public Document No. 15, page 63.

From the fiscal year 1885-86 to the fiscal year 1899-1900, inclusive, the City could make annually appropriations, to be met by the general revenue of the City and by taxes, to the amount of the interest and sinking-fund requirements, to the amount of the County expenses up to $425,000, and to the further amount of $9 on each $1,000 of the average of the assessed valuations for the preceding five years, the valuation for each year being decreased by all abatements allowed to, and including, December 31 of the year preceding.

During the fiscal year 1900-01, the Legislature passed an act (Stat. 1900, Chap. 399) repealing the laws of 1885 and 1887 (Stat. 1885, Chap. 178, and Stat. 1887, Chap. 281), and authorizing the City Council to make appropriations annually to the amount of the interest and sinking-fund requirements, to the total amount of County expenses, and to the further amount of $10.50 on each $1,000 of the average of the assessors' valuations for the preceding three years, reduced by all abatements allowed to December 31 of the year preceding. As the law went into effect in June, 1900, it increased the amounts that could be appropriated for that year as follows: Taxes for County purposes from $425,000 to $1,002,500, or $577,500; taxes for general purposes from $9,063,156 to $10,912,823, or $1,849,667. Of the total increase, $2,427,167, the amount of $1,611,710 was appropriated by a supplementary appropriation bill.

NOTE.—The receipts from work undertaken under the Acts authorizing loans for the "Laying-out and Construction of Highways," and for "Rapid Transit," are applied to the payment of interest on these loans respectively, and the balance, if any, paid to the Sinking Fund Commissioners. When the receipts are insufficient to meet these payments, the interest is met from receipts from sales of bonds. The following amounts have been paid for interest:

In making up the above tables, these amounts have been included in the Summary Table (debt of all kinds), but omitted from the table showing the City Debt. This was done in order to show in the latter the "City Debt Requirements," that is, the amount of interest and sinking fund payments met from the tax levy. To obtain the total payments for interest and to the Sinking Fund Commissioners on account of the principal of the debt, the above amounts should be added in the respective years to the totals as shown in the table, City Debt. The amount of revenue received from betterments and sales of property and credited to the Sinking Fund Commissioners is not shown in these tables.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

TRANSMITTING

STATEMENT OF SCHOOLHOUSE COMMISSIONERS AS TO EXPENDITURES FOR NEW SCHOOL-HOUSE SITES, NEW SCHOOL-HOUSES, AND THE SANITATION OF OLD STRUCTURES.

Mayor's Office,
Boston, Mass., January 5, 1905.

To the City Council:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Schoolhouse Commission, containing a report showing how the Board has expended the money provided by chapter 473 of the Acts of 1901, and the amendment thereto, for new school-house sites, new school-houses, and the sanitation and ventilation of old structures, and also explaining the necessity of an additional appropriation for said purposes.

Respectfully,

Patrick A. Collins,
Mayor.

City of Boston,
Schoolhouse Department,
120 Boylston Street, December 29, 1904.

Hon. Patrick A. Collins,
Mayor of the City of Boston:

Dear Sir, — The present year, 1904, is the last year covered by the loans authorized by chapter 473 of the Acts of 1901 and chapter 386 of the Acts of 1902; it seems therefore a proper time, even in advance of the regular annual report of this department, to make to your Honor a statement of how this money, thus provided, has been expended.

According to the provision of the act, there were forty-two items, the cost of which was to be met by this act, and these items were supposed to represent accommodation needed up to January 1, 1902. Of the total list, twenty-nine have been undertaken by the Board, and are either completed or in process of completion, and of the remainder, every item has been either met in other ways or has been partially undertaken by the purchase of land. These twenty-nine items are as follows: Items 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, 17, 18, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 30, 36, 37, 38, 41, and 42. These items, with what has been expended on the other thirteen, will practically exhaust the appropriation, and it is seen that there are yet thirteen items not in this list as completed.

Of these thirteen, four — Nos. 31, 32, 33 and 40 — were found impracticable, and their needs have been met by enlarging the other items in this neighborhood. The figures of attendance will show that the children of these districts are now accommodated. These may therefore be considered complete. Two items — Nos. 16 and 21 — represent the same accommodation, the Model School for the Normal filling the needs of the Prince District, which latter is not a pressing necessity; the land is purchased for this building. Item 29, as explained in the accompanying statement, has been taken care of by Item 18, and may be considered complete. Item 34 has been set aside as not an immediate necessity, and the same applies to Item 35. Item 39 the Board propose to take up and execute in their own office, but have not as yet begun upon it.

It appears, therefore, that the items not as yet complete are all connected with higher education — the Mechanic Arts High, the Charlestown High, the Normal and Girls' Latin. For all of these the land has been purchased. Every grammar and primary need has been actually filled.

It remains, therefore, for the Board to explain to your Honor why they have been unable, with the appropriation provided on the lines of their own recommendation, to complete all the items on the list.

The act referred solely to the condition of the city at the end of 1901, and contemplated an annual appropriation to meet the yearly increase. As this has not been available, it has seemed to the Board both wise and economical to increase the accommodation in each case to meet not merely the needs existing in 1902, but also those additional needs existing at the time of the erection of the building. In all cases this has been done, and the Board in so doing have acted in accordance with the advice of the Superintendent and the School Committee, as well as in accordance with their own best judgment. If this had not been done, thousands of children would now be without school accommodation. In this way each item, where continued growth has occurred, has been increased to meet this growth. The first item read, "A large grammar and primary school-house," and this was made the largest in the city. Items 13 and 14, mere additions to existing buildings, giving 10 rooms, resulted in a complete new grammar building of 14 class-rooms and the land therefor. The "large" grammar school on the Gibson site (and by "large" a building of 14 to 18 rooms was meant) resulted in a 24-room building; the large primary on the Ware lot in another 24-room building. The "grammar" on Meeting House Hill developed into a 32-room building, the largest now in the city — and so with nearly all the items. This increase in the size of each item was then one reason why the Board was unable to complete the full list.

Another reason was the cost of land. In many cases the price finally paid by the city not only exceeded the amount contemplated originally by the Board, but exceeded also the amounts named to the Board by brokers and owners. Moreover, in response to a growing demand, the Board have thought it right to purchase enough land in all cases to provide suitable grounds around the buildings, and in all cases the building contracts have covered the complete finishing and planting of these grounds. The purchase of land being a matter over which the Board have no control, it was impossible for them to estimate accurately the necessary expenditure. It will be noted, however, that in all possible cases they have avoided enlargement of old lots (see Items 31, 32, 33 and 40), where it is almost hopeless to control the price, and have utilized existing lots rather than purchase new land.

A third reason is the large amount of money spent in response to urgent need in replacing old and unsanitary systems of plumbing and heating with new and first-class plants. Seventy-five schools have been given new plumbing systems, or have had the old systems put in good repair, at a cost of $474,449.92,* and fourteen schools have had their heating and ventilating systems put in thorough order at a cost of $126,237.68.

These are the three principal reasons to account for the inability of the Board to accomplish all that was contemplated by the list, and to these may perhaps be added another, namely, the inexperience of the Board when first established. The work of the Board is extremely complicated and by no means easy, and there were no data to serve as a guide to what school buildings of given accommodation should cost.

* These seventy-five include every building whose plumbing was a menace to health.

When it became clear that the Board would be unable to complete the full list with the appropriation, they decided to omit the items connected with the higher branches, feeling that their first duty was to provide accommodation for the younger children.

In asking for another appropriation, we are asking more especially for the means to complete the Mechanic Arts High and make it capable of accommodating easily 1,200, and if crowded, as at present, 1,700 boys, and to build the long-needed Normal School, with accommodation for 300 men and women; the Model School to serve as a training school for the Normal, and to accommodate nearly 1,000 children; the Girls' Latin School, to accommodate 600, and the Charlestown High, to accommodate 500.

The land for these buildings is already purchased, and it is only the buildings themselves for which more is needed. The Board believe that $1,300,000 will be sufficient for these items, but as they have had no experience with high schools, and those recently erected by the School Committee vary too much to be a guide, they believe it would be wiser to ask for $1,500,000.

This appropriation would complete all the present pressing needs of the city for school accommodation, but it will not meet the annual increase of school population, which, with the constantly increasing number who take advantage of the education in the upper grades, is in excess of the increase of the population. If it is not to be the policy of the city to appropriate from the taxes for this need, the Board would urge an annual loan of $500,000.

For your further information in this matter I have appended a schedule of the grammar and primary schools which have been erected, which will show in a compact form the accommodation of these schools, their cost per pupil and the average cost per pupil. I have appended also a balance sheet showing briefly how the total amount of the appropriation has been expended, and also a schedule of the items that have been executed, explaining each one at length.

I am, dear Sir,

Your obedient servant,

R. Clipston Sturgis,

Chairman.

GRAMMAR AND PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

In preparing this schedule it is to be noted:

First. — That the cubes are calculated from a foot below the cellar grade up to and including the roof; that the cost includes the general contract, heating, ventilating, the complete electric equipment, and grading, planting and fencing the grounds.

Second. — That the cost per pupil is calculated at 50 pupils to a room, although a standard room seats 56. There are, however, in many of the large schools, ungraded and other classes which are even below 50, and consequently this figure is taken as a fair average. In the light of the more recent experience of the Board, they figure that, as between a small and large primary building, the cost per pupil might rightly vary from $132 to $160; that between a large and small grammar the cost per pupil might vary from $175 to $200. It will be seen from the list that the first three grammar schools exceeded the largest limit. This was due simply to the inexperience of the Board, in not being able to instruct the architects as to the necessary reduction in the plans. Of the five erected since that time, one is below the lowest limit, one is just above the lowest limit, and three exceed the limit. These three the Board will explain as follows:

Items 30 and 36 were buildings not entirely complete, and when the added class-rooms are built the entire building will come within the limit.

Items 13 and 14 very slightly exceed the limit, due to the fact of expensive foundations and the very large lot to be graded and planted.

In the primary list it will be seen that the first four items seriously exceed even the outside limit, due, as in the case of the grammar buildings, to the Board's lack of experience which would enable them to determine just where the needless extravagance was. The last five have been executed since this time, and, of these five, three are within the limit and two exceed the limit, one by $10 and the other by $18. The excess of Item 23 is due to an expensive piled foundation and a lot large enough to accommodate two schools, all of which is graded and planted. The excess of Item 38 is due to still more expensive foundations and to a very short time limit and a heavy forfeiture contract.

The chairman of the board shall take the chair at the hour to which the board shall have adjourned, and shall call the members to order, and, a quorum being present, shall cause the minutes of the preceding regular meeting to be read. In the absence of the chairman, the senior member present shall preside as chairman pro tempore.

RULE 2. The chairman shall preserve decorum and order, may speak to points of order in preference to other members, and shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the board; and no other business shall be in order until the question on appeal shall have been decided.

RULE 3. The chairman shall propound all motions in the order in which they are moved, unless the subsequent motion shall be previous in its nature, except that, in naming sums and fixing times, the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

RULE 4. The chairman shall, at the request of any member, make a division of a question when the sense will admit.

RULE 5. The chairman shall, without debate, decide all questions relating to priority of business to be acted upon.

RULE 6. The chairman shall declare all votes; but if any member doubts a vote, the chairman shall cause a rising vote to be taken, and, when any member so requests, shall cause the vote to be taken or verified by yeas and nays.

RULE 7. The chairman shall appoint all committees, fill all vacancies therein, and designate the rank of the members thereof.

RULE 8. When the chairman of the board or the chairman pro tempore shall decide to vacate the chair he may call any member to it; but such substitution shall not continue beyond an adjournment.

MOTIONS.

RULE 9. Every motion shall be reduced to writing if the chairman shall so direct.

RULE 10. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible; but a motion to strike out being lost shall not preclude amendment, or a motion to strike out and insert.

RULE 11. No motion or proposition of a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

RULE 12. When an order or resolution relates to a subject which may properly be examined and reported upon by an existing committee of the city council, such order or resolution shall, upon presentation, be referred to such committee. When a motion is made to refer any subject, and different committees are proposed, the motion shall be put in the following order:

1. To a standing committee of the board.
2. To a special committee of the board.
3. To a joint standing committee.
4. To a joint special committee.

CONFIRMATIONS.

RULE 17. The question of confirming a nomination made by the mayor shall be decided by a yea and nay ballot.

RECONSIDERATION.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

ON

RULES AND ORDERS OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.

In Common Council, January 12, 1905.

The special committee appointed to prepare and report a draft of the rules to govern the common council for the year 1905, having considered the subject, respectively submit herewith the accompanying draft, being the same rules as were in force for the year 1904.

For the Committee,

Arthur W. Dolan,

Chairman.

RULES AND ORDERS OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.

RULE 1. Unless otherwise ordered from time to time, the regular meeting of the common council shall be held on every Thursday at 7.45 o'clock P.M., and on the appearance of a quorum the council shall be called to order. In the absence of the president the oldest senior member present shall take the chair, and a president pro tempore shall be chosen by ballot; and if an election is not effected on the first trial, on subsequent trials a plurality vote shall elect.

The roll shall be called at each meeting of the council, at the discretion of the president, but not later than nine o'clock.

When the meeting of the common council is called to order, it shall be the duty of the city messenger to cause the electric bell in the antechamber to be rung for the purpose of notifying the members that the body is in session, and for the three minutes next following the ringing of the bell no business shall be transacted and no member recognized by the chair for any purpose.

PRESIDENT.

RULE 2. The president shall appoint and announce all committees, unless otherwise ordered, and shall communicate his appointments to the council at the meeting following such action, if not made during a session. All vacancies upon committees shall be filled in the manner of original appointment, and members so appointed shall take rank according to the date of their appointment, unless otherwise designated by the president.

RULE 3. The president may, at any time, call another member to the chair, but such substitution shall not continue beyond an adjournment. In all cases the president may vote.

RULE 4. The president shall preserve order in the council chamber, during sessions of the council, and in case any member other than the one recognized by the chair insists on occupying the floor for any purpose, except to rise to a point of order or question of personal privilege, he shall, upon request of the president, take his seat, and upon refusal to comply with such request, said member shall, by a majority vote of the members present and voting, be removed from the council chamber, such removal to remain in effect during the remainder of the session, unless otherwise ordered. The president shall forbid smoking in the council chamber.

CLERK.

RULE 5. The clerk shall keep a record of the acts, votes, and proceedings of the common council, and a separate record of all decisions of the chair upon questions of order. He shall have the care and custody of all papers belonging to this branch of the city council, and shall prepare a schedule of business in order for each meeting, in such manner as the president may direct.

He shall draw up and send all messages to the board of aldermen; and shall retain in his possession all papers until the right to file a notice of reconsideration has expired, and if such notice is made he shall keep the papers pertaining thereto until the right of reconsideration has expired.

CONDUCT OF MEMBERS.

RULE. 6. Except when otherwise provided, no member shall speak for more than fifteen minutes, and a further equal time if the council so vote. No member shall speak a second time on a question, if another member, who has not spoken, claims the floor.

RULE 7. No member speaking shall be interrupted by another, except upon a point of order.

Every member while speaking shall confine himself to the question under debate, and shall refrain from personalities, and shall not refer to any other member of the council except by a respectful designation; and no member shall speak or vote out of his place without leave of the president.

QUORUM.

RULE 8. Whenever a member raises a doubt of a quorum being present, the chair shall ascertain and declare whether a quorum is present or not. For this purpose he may, at his discretion, or on motion, sustained by one-fifth of the members present, order the roll to be called. If a quorum is not present he shall declare the council adjourned.

COMMITTEES.

RULE 9. All matters relating to the election of members shall be referred to the standing committee on elections, which shall consist of five members.

RULE 10. There shall be a standing committee on judiciary, consisting of five members, who shall have the power to obtain the opinion of the corporation counsel on all matters that shall be referred to them.

RULE 11. All committees of this council shall be notified of their meetings by the clerk of committees. They shall not sit during sessions of the council without special leave, nor be called on less notice than twenty-four hours from the time the notices are mailed by the clerk or dispatched by special messengers, unless all the members consent; and the clerk shall keep a record of their doings. The member first named shall be chairman, unless otherwise ordered by the committee, in which case the council shall be notified of the change; and the same rule shall apply to members serving on joint committees.

RULE 12. Special committees of the council shall consist of three members, unless otherwise ordered.

RULE 13. No report of any committee shall be received unless agreed to by such committee at a duly notified meeting thereof. Such report, when presented, may be ordered to be printed, and shall then take its place among the unfinished business for consideration at the next meeting.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

RULE 14. When the council shall determine to go into a committee of the whole, the president shall appoint the member who shall take the chair.

RULE 15. The rules of proceedings in the council shall be observed in the committee of the whole, so far as they are applicable; but the previous question shall not be moved, and a motion to rise, report progress, and ask leave to sit again, shall be first in order, and shall be decided without debate.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

RULE 16. At every meeting of the council the order of business shall be as follows:

First. Reading of the records of the preceding meeting, if called for by a majority of the members present.

Second. Messages from his honor the mayor, reports of city officers, and other communications addressed to the council.

Third. Papers from the board of aldermen.

Fourth. Reports of committee on finance.

Fifth. Reports of committees, which shall be called for by division in numerical order.

Sixth. Motions, orders, and resolutions. Orders and resolutions shall be read once, and, upon motion, referred to their appropriate committees or assigned to the next meeting. If no objection is made or the rules are suspended, orders and resolutions may, at the time they are offered, be given a second reading and passed. All orders relating to heads of departments shall, unless otherwise ordered, be referred to the mayor.

Seventh. Unfinished business of preceding meetings.

Eighth. Notices of motions for reconsideration. (See Rule 35.)

Ninth. Motions, orders, and resolutions which shall take the same course as provided in the sixth section of this rule; provided, however, that not more than thirty minutes shall be allowed for the presentation of papers under the sixth order of business. Papers shall be called for by divisions in numerical order, and only one member in division one, two members in division two, two members in division three, and one member in division four shall be recognized until each division has been called.

RULE 17. All papers addressed to the council shall be presented by the president or by a member; and unless the council shall otherwise determine, they shall be read by the president, or such other person as he may request, and be taken up in the order in which they have been presented.

RULE 18. All ordinances, orders, and resolutions shall, unless rejected, have two several readings, after each of which debate shall be in order, and they shall then be put on their passage. Whenever the second reading immediately follows the first the document may be read by its title only.

RULE 19. No ordinance, and no order or resolution imposing penalties, or authorizing the expenditure of money, shall have more than one reading on the same day; but this rule shall not apply to an order to print a document.

MOTIONS.

RULE 20. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the president shall so direct, and no other motion shall be entertained until a reasonable time be afforded for compliance with such direction.

Rule 21. In naming sums and fixing times the largest sum and longest time shall first be put to the question.

Rule 22. When a question is under debate, the president shall receive any of the following motions, but no others:

1. To adjourn.
2. To lay on the table.
3. The previous question.
4. To close debate at a specified time.
5. To assign to a time certain.
6. To amend.
7. To refer to a committee.
8. To refer to another board.
9. To postpone indefinitely.

These several motions shall not be applied to each other, except that the motion to assign, amend, refer, or to close debate at a specified time, may be amended; and the previous question may be demanded upon an amendment, which motion shall be decided without debate. When one of these motions has been made, none of the others, inferior to it in precedence, shall be made, and, in proceeding to vote, motions pending shall be put in the order of their rank, as above arranged. No motion or proposition of a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

Rule 23. When a matter has been assigned to be taken up at a fixed hour, or at a certain stage of proceedings, such matter shall, at the time appointed, or at any time subsequent thereto, during the same or succeeding meetings, be in order upon the call of any member and take precedence of all other business.

Rule 24. When an order or resolution relates to a subject which may properly be examined and reported upon by an existing committee of the city council, such order or resolution shall, upon presentation, be referred to such committee. When a motion is made to refer any subject, and different committees are proposed, the motion shall be put in the following order:

A standing committee of the council.
A special committee of the council.
A joint standing committee.
A joint special committee.

RULE 25. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, provided business of a nature to be recorded on the journal has been transacted since a motion to adjourn was rejected; and such motion shall be decided without debate.

RULE 26. Debate on a call for the previous question, or on a motion to close debate at a specified time, or on a motion to lay on the table, or take from the table, shall not exceed ten minutes, and no member shall speak more than three minutes. In such debate, however, the merits of the main question shall not be discussed.

RULE 27. Any member may require the division of a question when the sense will admit of it; and any member may move at any time for the suspension of any rule or rules.

PREVIOUS QUESTION.

RULE 28. The previous question shall be put in the following form: "Shall the main question be now put?" and all debate upon the main question shall be suspended until the previous question has been decided.

RULE 29. When the previous question is ordered, the vote shall be taken upon all pending amendments, and finally upon the main question.

RULE 30. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for the previous question, shall be decided without debate, except on an appeal; and on such an appeal no member shall be allowed to speak more than once without leave of the council.

APPEAL.

RULE 31. No appeal from the decision of the president shall be entertained unless it is seconded; and no motion but to adjourn shall be in order till the question on the appeal has been decided, The question shall be put as follows: "Shall the decision of the chair stand as the judgment of the council?" and it shall be deemed to be decided in the affirmative unless a majority of the votes given are to the contrary.

VOTING.

RULE 32. If the president is unable to decide, or if any member doubts a vote, the president shall cause a rising vote to be taken on the question without further debate. The president shall appoint two tellers for each division of the council, as fixed by him, who shall agree on a count, and report the result aloud to him.

RULE 33. A motion that any pending vote shall be taken by yeas and nays shall be in order at any time, and no debate shall be allowed thereon, but it shall be passed by the assent of one-fifth of the members present. Every member present shall answer to his name unless excused before the vote is taken.

RULE 34. After the announcement of a vote, not taken by yeas and nays, any member may move for a verification thereof by yeas and nays, and on such motion a debate of the original question, not exceeding five minutes, shall be permitted, and the yeas and nays shall be taken, provided one-fifth of the members voting shall so require.

RECONSIDERATION.

RULE 35. When a vote has been passed, any member may move a reconsideration thereof at the same meeting, either immediately after the announcement of such vote, or whenever motions are in order; or if any member, who is not shown by a yea and nay vote to have voted against the prevailing side, shall give notice to the clerk, before ten o'clock A.M. of the next day but one following that on which a meeting was held, except the final meeting of the year, or that preceding any adjournment for over two weeks, of his intention so to do, he may move a reconsideration at the next meeting at which said motion is reached in the order of proceedings.

RULE 36. Debate on motions to reconsider shall be limited to thirty minutes, and no member shall speak more than five minutes. Whenever a matter has been especially assigned, a notice, as above specified, to reconsider any vote affecting it, shall be considered whenever such special assignment takes effect.

RULE 37. When a motion for reconsideration has been decided, that decision shall not be reconsidered, and no question shall be twice reconsidered unless it has been amended after the reconsideration; nor shall any reconsideration be had upon the following motions:

To adjourn.
The previous question.
To lay on the table.
To take from the table.
To close debate at a specified time.

RESCINDING VOTES.

RULE 38. After a vote has been refused a reconsideration, it shall not be rescinded unless two-thirds of the whole number of the members of the common council vote in the affirmative.

ELECTIONS.

RULE 39. All elections of city officers by this branch shall be held in accordance with the provisions of chapter 170 of the Acts of the year 1899.

SEATS OF MEMBERS.

RULE 40. No person except a member of the council shall be permitted to occupy the seat of any member while the council is in session. The seats of the members of the council shall be numbered, and shall be determined, in the presence of the council, by drawing the names of members and the number of the seat simultaneously; and each member shall be entitled for the year to the seat bearing the number so drawn against his name, and shall not change it except by the permission of the president.

SPECTATORS.

RULE 41. The city messenger shall allow no person upon the floor of the council chamber, or in either of the anterooms, except members of the city government, heads of departments and reporters, without the permission of the president; and, while the council is in session, no person, except members of the city government, heads of departments and reporters, shall be allowed in either of the anterooms on the easterly side. The president shall order such accommodations on the floor for reporters and spectators as he shall deem proper; provided, however, that no spectators shall be seated behind the members of the council.

RULE 42. The council chamber shall be used for meetings of the council only, unless by special vote of the common council; provided, that during the summer recess the president may allow the chamber to be used for public purposes, in all cases reporting his action to the council at its next meeting. The anteroom and large committee-room on the east shall be subject to the same rules, except that the president may allow committee meetings to be held therein at times when the council is not in session. The clerk's room shall be assigned to the clerk of the common council for occupancy and use. The anteroom between the council chamber and the clerk's room shall be used during the meetings of the council to give access to the seats on the floor, and for such other purposes as the president may direct; provided, that smoking there shall not be allowed on the part of visitors. The general care and supervision of these rooms are hereby intrusted to the city messenger, subject to the direction of the president; but no expenditure of money shall be made except by direct vote of the common council.

Parliamentary Practice.

Rule 43. The rules of parliamentary practice as contained in Cushing's "Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies," shall govern this council in all cases in which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with these rules or the joint rules of the city council.

Repeal.

Rule 44. The foregoing rules shall not be altered, amended, suspended, or repealed, at any time, except by the votes of two-thirds of the members of the common council present and voting thereon.

1. A committee on Appropriations, to consist of eight members of the board of aldermen and eight members of the common council, to whom shall be referred the estimates of the departments prepared annually, and any suggestions thereon from his honor the mayor. They shall report an order appropriating such sums as they deem necessary for the lawful public uses, and setting forth in detail, as far as convenient, the purposes.

5. A committee on Ordinances, to consist of the members of the committee on law department, to whom shall be referred all ordinances introduced in either branch, or transmitted to them by vote of any standing committee. Unless specially instructed, they shall pass upon the question of the form and legality of the ordinance so referred; they may append an order that such ordinance "ought not to pass," and Joint Special Committees.

Rule 2. Every joint special committee ordered by the city council shall, unless otherwise provided in the order, be appointed in the manner provided in Rule 1.

Joint Committees.

Rule 3. The member of the board of aldermen first named on every joint committee shall be the chairman; and in case of his resignation or inability the other members of the same board, in the order designated by the chairman of the board, and after them the members of the common council in the order named, shall act as chairman. Meetings of committees shall be called at the discretion of the chairman, or at the written request of a majority of the members.

Rule 4. Every joint committee shall cause records of their proceedings to be kept in books provided for that purpose; and at every meeting of a committee the records of the previous meeting shall be read, unless otherwise ordered by the committee. In all such meetings of committees all votes shall, at the request of any member, be taken by yeas and nays and recorded.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEES.

RULE 7. In every case of disagreement between the two branches of the city council, if either branch shall request a conference, and appoint a committee of conference, the other branch shall also appoint such a committee, and such committees shall consist of not less than five members each. Both committees shall, at an hour to be agreed upon by their chairmen, meet and state to each other, verbally or in writing, as either shall choose, the reasons for the action of their respective branches in relation to the matter in controversy, shall confer freely thereon, and shall report to their respective branches.

REFERENCE TO COMMITTEES.

RULE 8. When an order or resolution relates to a subject which may properly be examined and reported upon by an existing committee of the city council, such order or resolution shall, upon presentation, be referred to such committee. Either branch of the city council may commit or recommit to a joint committee, but a reference with instructions shall require concurrent action.

REPORTS OF JOINT COMMITTEES.

RULE 9. No report of a joint committee shall be received by either branch of the city council unless agreed to by such committee at a duly notified meeting thereof. The report of a committee upon any subject referred to them shall, unless otherwise ordered by the city council or by the committee, be presented to the branch in which the order of reference originated. It shall be the duty of every joint committee to which any subject may be specially referred, to report thereon within four weeks, or to ask for further time.

RULE 10. All reports submitted to the city council shall be written or printed, and no indorsement of any kind shall be made on the reports, memorials, or other papers, excepting those made by the officers of either branch, or the name of the member offering the same. Every report of a committee shall be signed by a member belonging to the body to which it shall be presented, unless otherwise directed by the committee. Every member presenting an order, ordinance, or resolution shall have his name indorsed thereon. Such member shall be informed by the clerk of committees of the time fixed for its consideration, if he give notice of his desire to be heard thereon.

RULE 11. Any report containing any recommendation other than "leave to withdraw," or "inexpedient to take further action," or reference to another board or committee, shall be accompanied by an ordinance, order or resolve embodying such recommendation; and such report shall be acted upon separately.

RULE 12. Any member of a joint committee may submit a minority report at the same time as the majority report, and, if the latter be in print, he shall be allowed to submit his report also in print. Either branch may order to be printed the report of any committee submitted to it, or any document relating to a subject under consideration, the expense thereof to be charged to the general appropriation for printing.

NOTICE TO OTHER BRANCH.

RULE 13. All papers requiring concurrent action shall be transmitted from one branch of the city council to the other before the next regular meeting of the latter branch, with the action of the branch sending them indorsed thereon, and signed by the regular presiding officer of such branch, or, in his absence, by the clerk, or assistant clerk, of such body. In case of votes or action by either branch, not based on written orders or papers, notice of the same shall be transmitted to the other branch, signed as hereinbefore directed. In case any ordinance, order, or resolution, originating in one branch, shall fail to pass in the other, notice thereof shall be given, under the signature of the clerk, to the branch in which the same originated.

ORDERS AND RESOLUTIONS.

RULE 14. In all votes requiring concurrent action the form of expression shall be "Ordered" for everything by way of command; and the form shall be "Resolved" for everything expressing opinions, principles, facts, or purposes.

RULE 16. No expenditure shall be made from the reserve fund except by a transfer to some other appropriation, or to a new appropriation to be established, and no expenditure shall be charged to the appropriation for incidental expenses except transfers and the expenditures therefrom provided for in the ordinances.

RULE 17. Every application for an additional appropriation, to be provided for by transfer or loan, shall be referred to the committee on finance; and no such additional appropriation shall be made until the said committee have reported thereon.

RULE 18. No order authorizing the borrowing of money, or the transfer of one appropriation, or part of an appropriation, to another appropriation, shall be passed, unless two-thirds of the whole number of the members of each branch of the city council vote in the affirmative, by a vote taken by yea and nay.

BILLS AND ACCOUNTS.

RULE 19. No presiding officer of a board or chairman of a committee, unless duly authorized by such board or committee, shall approve any bill or account against the city.

AMENDMENT OR REPEAL.

RULE 20. The foregoing rules shall not be altered, amended, suspended, or repealed, at any time, except by the votes of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the city council present and voting thereon.

FOURTH OF JULY ORATION

BY

HON. LE BARON BRADFORD COLT,

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT JUDGE,

AT

FANEUIL HALL,

TUESDAY, JULY 4, 1905.

AMERICA'S SOLUTION OF THE PROBLEM OF GOVERNMENT.

Mr. Mayor and Fellow Citizens:

On the Fourth of July, 1776, our fathers ceased to be colonists of Britain, and became an independent people. On that day the representatives of the United States of America in General Congress, assembled at the City of Philadelphia, declared that the thirteen united colonies possessed "full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do."

On that day, upon a new continent, and upon a magnitude hitherto unknown, was begun, in the words of Bryce, "the most remarkable experiment in government the world has yet witnessed."

The history of mankind for three thousand years pointed against the success of this experiment. The teachings of philosophers and statesmen of all ages foretold its failure. Many of our own great leaders were distrustful of the result.

One hundred and twenty-nine years have passed since that eventful scene in Independence Hall, and lo! we now behold, as the outcome of this experiment, the fairest picture of government which ever met the eye of man. Oh, that the great patriots of this storm centre of Revolution might look down upon this scene! Would that the heroic band who signed the Declaration might gaze upon their country to-day! Would that all the great founders of the Republic might behold this United States of America on this Fourth of July, 1905!

Imagine the "transports of enthusiasm" of John Adams, as, through "the rays of ravishing light and glory," he finds his prophecy fulfilled a thousand fold. Picture to yourselves the thoughts of Otis — that "flame of fire" in whom "Independence was born" — as he perceives the "liberties" which the people here enjoy! Call to your minds, as he looks upon this wonderful progress of American freedom, the joyous emotions of that proscribed and inflexible patriot statesman, Samuel Adams, whom no fear of death could induce "to abandon the righteous cause of his country." Think of the exaltation of John Hancock, could he look down upon us in this hour — he who put the question, "Shall the Declaration be adopted?" and who, at the risk of life and fortune, affixed his imperishable signature to that Charter of Liberty. With what an overwhelming sense of gratitude would Jefferson witness the triumph of the immortal principles of the Declaration in the New World, and their seemingly rapid conquest of the Old! What feelings of proud satisfaction would fill the lofty soul of Hamilton as he surveys the stability, the elasticity, and the reserved strength of the Constitution after the lapse of more than a hundred years! Conceive the joy of Franklin as he realizes the commanding position of the United States among the nations of the earth, and those splendid achievements of American diplomacy which are fast making this country the arbiter of the peace and destinies of the world! And last, and greatest of all, let us contemplate Washington as he gazes upon the power, the renown, and the grandeur of his country to-day, and contrasts it with the America of the Revolution, or the America as it last met his mortal vision — a peaceful, prosperous, progressive, law-abiding, enlightened democracy of eighty millions of people, extending under the Federal Constitution over a continental area, embracing forty-five great States and island possessions which circle half the globe!

On this anniversary of the Nation's birth we may well ask ourselves what is the cause of all this — what is the explanation of this American phenomenon in government which has so astonished the world and upset all the teachings and predictions of European thinkers and statesmen? How has it happened that the United States, in a manner and upon a scale hitherto unknown, has solved this problem of government — the most difficult and complex of all human problems, and yet the most momentous, since upon the institutions of a country depend the well-being and happiness of the people? There must be some explanation, some underlying cause. Two powerful nations, one in the Old World, and the other in the New, occupying immense tracts of territory, started together more than a century ago to solve, upon a vast scale, the problem of government. Why has Russia failed and America succeeded? Has this country discovered a new brand of government as well as of diplomacy?

The solution of this problem becomes the more remarkable when we reflect that the United States has apparently disregarded, in the structure of its government, every previously recognized canon of stability and unity. It has ignored the strength and personal loyalty of monarchy, the wisdom and conservatism of aristocracy. It has not depended upon the superior knowledge, experience, and leisure of any class. It has taken, historically speaking, the two weakest forms of government, and created the strongest political organization in the history of mankind. Philosophers have ever told us that a democracy is fickle, short-lived, and generally corrupt and tyrannical. They have also said that a Federal Union, from its inherent nature, is the most complex, delicate, and unstable form of government known. Disregarding all these admonitions, the American people have adopted both these political systems. Here is exhibited in its purest form, compatible with the representative system, a democracy, a government by the people, self-government. Here also is exhibited a Federal Union in its most perfect form, and upon a vast magnitude. How has it come to pass that we have made democracy a success, a Federal system a success — liberty, equality, fraternity, a success — with all the countless blessings which have come to the people from these political conditions? What seed has been planted in these institutions which has brought forth such splendid fruit? What new principle in government has America discovered which will explain her wonderful progress, her unity, and her strength? How has it happened that the United States has emerged from every great national crisis stronger, wiser, and more confident? What is the cohesive force in these institutions which has enabled them to withstand the shock of civil war, the freeing of four millions of slaves, a disputed Presidential succession, and every peril to which the country has been exposed? To what unifying influence in our form of government can be ascribed the power of assimilating and moulding into one homogeneous people the multitude of newcomers from other lands, of different nationalities and traditions, who have made America their home? Why is it, if by chance they revisit their native land, they return to America with increased love for this country, and that they and their descendants are not excelled in devotion and loyalty to American institutions? How has it come to pass that American diplomacy is conquering the world, and that to-day the Great Powers are looking to us as the only hope of peace?

During the past century the map of Europe has changed. Dynasties have been overthrown; new governments have arisen. There is no European country at the present time in which there does not exist an organized party in favor of a change in the form of the government, or in some of its organic features. What is the potent cause which has maintained unimpaired American institutions, and which has instilled into every American his absolute, unquestioned faith in the government of his country and in her future high destiny? Whence has sprung that supreme trust in the American people which sustained Washington through the doubt and gloom of the Revolution, and which upheld and comforted Lincoln during the darkest hours of the Civil War?

From the Declaration of Independence down to a comparatively recent period, and especially at every critical stage in our progress, the world has been filled with prophets of evil omen. De Tocqueville, seventy years ago, foretold our decline, if not our downfall, through the tyranny of the majority. Macaulay was filled with the most gloomy forebodings respecting the future of American institutions, although he was good enough to postpone the time when his New Zealander should sketch the ruins of the Capitol at Washington. "I have long been convinced," he said, "that institutions purely democratic must, sooner or later, destroy liberty or civilization, or both." "Your fate I believe to be certain, though it is deferred by a physical cause." "Your Constitution is all sail and no anchor." "When a society has entered on this downward progress, either civilization or liberty must perish. Either some Cæsar or Napoleon will seize the reins of government with a strong hand, or your republic will be as fearfully plundered and laid waste by barbarians in the twentieth century as the Roman Empire was in the fifth, with this difference, that the Huns and Vandals who ravaged the Roman Empire came from without, and that your Huns and Vandals will have been engendered within your own country by your own institutions." The historian Freeman prophesied the exchange of ambassadors between the North and the South before the year 1869. The publicists and statesmen of Europe foretold the dissolution of the Federal Union before the Civil War. They were also convinced beyond doubt that the North would never succeed in that war, and, after the close, they were equally certain that the Union was irretrievably wrecked, and that the South would come back as conquered provinces under some new and stronger form of government.

Why has our experience refuted these predictions? Why have all the prophets proved to be false prophets? The circumstances surrounding the settlement of our forefathers in this country do not afford an adequate explanation. These results cannot be accounted for by the prodigality of nature as exhibited in land and forest and mine, nor by our freedom from powerful and aggressive surrounding nations. Nor can they be accounted for by reason of race temperament or character. Nor can they be explained upon the theory that our forefathers brought with them the town meeting, the Magna Charta, and the Bill of Rights, and left behind them the mediæval institutions of Europe. While these auspicious conditions may have exerted a powerful influence, they present at the most only a partial explanation of our remarkable history. The true explanation, the real solution of the problem, must be sought for in some more comprehensive and fundamental cause.

America's solution of the great problem of government, the explanation of this American phenomenon, is found in the plain wisdom of the plain people. It has its origin in the mind and conscience of the great body of citizens, in their honesty, intelligence, and fair-mindedness, in their practical judgment and sense of what is proper and right. It is based upon the utilization of the common sense of the average man, or the collective common sense of the multitude of average men, as the active, controlling force in government. It is, in its essence, simply the town-meeting principle of government extended over a vast empire. In this common-sense principle of government, which is merely the expression of the plain wisdom of the plain people, lies the key, the only key, which unlocks the remarkable development and achievements of American civilization during the past century.

There are certain inborn qualities which are the common heritage of mankind. The human race is endowed by nature with common sense, natural understanding, practical judgment, a sense of what is just and right. These qualities are distinct from the endowments of genius or the acquisitions of learning. They are unaffected by logical abstractions or the imagination. They are unaided by any art, method, or system of rules. They are developed and strengthened by the common every-day experiences in life and in business. It is these qualities of common wisdom which enter into, direct, and control the judgment of the average man and the collective judgment of the mass of average men. In the sphere of government, these qualities are further aided in their exercise by local self-government, by free discussion, and by a system of primary education.

The great truths of the Declaration — "That all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed" — appeal to these natural qualities in man. The great principles of peace, humanity, charity, the common brotherhood of man, appeal to the same inborn qualities.

Hitherto, governments have suppressed these natural qualities in mankind. The practical wisdom and good sense of the average citizen, or the mass of average citizens, has never been recognized as the active controlling force in the state. Governments have hitherto proceeded on the theory that it was necessary to have a governing class who were specially qualified, by reason of superior knowledge and experience, to manage public affairs. The result has been that society has almost universally accepted some form of autocratic or class government — the rule of a king or of an aristocracy — as the lesser evil. The ability of the people to govern themselves was denied. It was not believed that any such governing faculty was born in man. No confidence was placed in the common sense of the great body of citizens as the ruling power. Liberty and self-government were denied mankind because it was thought that these privileges were subversive of civil order.

For the first time in the history of the world, the United States has availed itself of the plain wisdom of the plain people, of the sense and conscience of the average man, or, more properly speaking, of the mass of average men, as the ruling force in the state. Never before has government relied upon these natural qualities as the ultimate and the controlling power in public affairs. This is America's discovery. This is her gift to humanity and to civilization. She has made known man's capacity for self-government, and this is her crowning glory.

It is true that there have been some previous examples of popular governments, notably in ancient Greece and in mediæval Italy; but these attempts at self-government were made under adverse circumstances, and upon a small scale. This American theory has never before been fully tried under favorable surroundings, and upon a national scale. Here the soil was well prepared. "God had sifted three kingdoms to find the wheat for this planting." The country was new, of vast extent, and of unsurpassed natural resources. The wide ocean separated this continent from the powerful nations of the Old World. Our fathers had brought with them local self-government and the fundamental principles of personal liberty. It thus appears that, notwithstanding these former examples of popular government, the United States for the first time has really afforded the proper opportunity for the common people to test their ability to govern themselves, and that we were the first to discover and utilize this common-sense principle of government, founded upon the judgment of the mass of citizens, and to make it the active and controlling governing power.

In the progress of American institutions, this new governing force, resting on the general sense of the body of citizens, has become all-powerful — the absolute master of the state. It has supplanted the true function of the representative system, and dominates the whole machinery of government. Executives and legislatures bow before this voice of the people. It fears nothing. It seeks only to do what is proper and right. We call it public opinion. It began to assert itself at an early period. John Adams relates that for some time the vote of the Convention was constantly against the passage of the Declaration. "For many days," he says, "the majority depended on Mr. Hewes of North Carolina. While a member one day was reading documents to prove that public opinion was in favor of the measure, Mr. Hewes suddenly started upright, and lifting up both hands to heaven, as if in a trance, cried out: 'It is done, and I will abide by it!'" Our recent history affords startling illustrations of its irresistible power. In other countries, like England and France, where liberal institutions exist, the people are satisfied with electing their agents to carry on the government. This is not the case in the United States. Here, public officers are and remain the servants of the people, to execute at all times their sovereign will.

This striking phase in the development of our institutions has been pointed out recently by Bryce, in his American Commonwealth. Speaking of public opinion, he says:

"It stands above parties, being cooler and larger minded than they are; it awes party leaders, and holds in check party organizations. No one ventures openly to oppose it. It determines the duration and the character of national policy. . . . . It is the central point of the whole American policy. . . . . It may sometimes be long in speaking, but when it speaks, it speaks with a weight which the wisest governing class cannot claim. . . . . It grows up, not in Congress, not in State legislatures, not in those great conventions which frame platforms and choose candidates, but at large among the people. It is expressed in voices everywhere. It rules as a pervading, impalpable power, like the ether which passes through all things. It binds all the parts of the complicated system together, and gives them whatever unity of aim and action they possess." "Towering over Presidents and State Governors, over Congress and State legislatures, over conventions and the vast machinery of party, public opinion stands out in the United States as the great source of power, the master of servants who tremble before it."

Our whole history illustrates the soundness of this new governing force; in other words, that the practical judgment of the mass of citizens has been wise and right. The Declaration of Independence was no sudden nor hasty act. The people had petitioned, and petitioned in vain, for the redress of grievances. They were driven to independence only after repeated acts of oppression, and as a last resort. And with independence the people saw the practical necessity of a closer union of the colonies. Independence and union were always associated together in the popular mind. When the Articles of Confederation proved too weak for practical governing purposes, a stronger union was entered into under the Federal Constitution. Unfortunately, there grew up under this Constitution two opposing, irreconcilable social systems. Seeking to avoid the inevitable conflict between freedom and slavery, the people, for forty years, tried compromise after compromise. But when the hour of battle came they rose in their supreme power and declared: "We join ourselves to no party that does not carry the flag and keep step to the music of the Union." The theoretical argument of State sovereignty, founded upon the nature of a Federal compact, the practical judgment of the people rejected.

The so-called invincible logic of Calhoun made little impression on the popular mind. The plain sense of the plain people revolted against the idea of a dismemberment of the Union. Here was a land designed by nature for the occupancy of one people, whose great waterways, mountains, and plains must not be divided between two or more independent nations. One people had subdued this wilderness. One people had fought the War of the Revolution, and established the Constitution — a people made one by a common lineage, a common language, a common history, common struggles, common sacrifices, common institutions, and a common religion. There was no answer in the minds of the people to these practical arguments, and the Civil War was carried on until the Union was restored. To the success of that war it became indispensable to clothe the President with almost autocratic powers; and the good sense of the people responded to this situation by declaring that the Federal Constitution must be made elastic enough to save the country.

The weakest spot in a Federal system of government, outside of the doctrine of State sovereignty, is the election of the Chief Executive. There was no constitutional way for meeting the disputed Presidential election of 1876; but the people insisted that this crisis must be met in a peaceful way, even though means were provided outside the boundaries of the organic law. Disputed successions have caused numerous long and bloody wars in the monarchies of the Old World. The approval of the Electoral Commission and the endorsement of its decision is one of the strongest illustrations of the practical wisdom of the people as the ruling force in government.

In the events preceding the Spanish War, the popular mind, although wrought up to the highest tension, acted with the utmost calmness, and war was not declared until it was demanded by the dictates of humanity as well as national honor.

While the general sense of the people has always been right with respect to broad questions of public policy, it may be claimed that this is hardly true concerning comparatively minor issues. I maintain, however, that on questions like the tariff, the currency, civil service reform, and all questions which relate to the administration of government, the judgment of the masses has been equally wise. It may take a longer discussion of these more difficult and complex subjects before the popular mind reaches a full and intelligent understanding of them, and there may be temporary setbacks, but our experience in every case shows that in the end the decision of the people has been right.

The same common sense which has characterized the rule of the people has also guided our great statesmen in the construction of the machinery of government, in the interpretation of the Constitution, in our foreign relations, and in the critical periods of the Nation's history.

The framers of the Constitution were men of strong common sense and practical wisdom. They were neither dreamers nor theorists nor revolutionists. They sought to solve the great problem of the hour by rational means. The logic of the situation demanded some kind of Federal Union. This was the only form of government adapted to thirteen independent States. They set about to form such a political system by remedying what experience had taught them were the defects in the old Articles of Confederation. They cured these evils by making the new Constitution bear directly upon the people instead of upon the States, by granting certain general powers to Congress, such as the regulation of commerce, by the establishment of the Federal Judiciary, and by other changes. They also reconciled by compromise or elimination conflicting interests and jealousies. So successful were their efforts that Gladstone has declared that "The American Constitution is the most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man."

In the construction of the Constitution the Supreme Court has ever been guided by practical wisdom rather than abstract theory. They have interpreted that instrument to meet the wants and necessities of a great and progressive people, who were extending over a new continent, and whose social needs and national aspirations were constantly changing. They have applied to its provisions the great doctrine of reasonableness. They have placed a liberal construction upon its general powers when a national exigency demanded it. When it became absolutely vital to the safety of the Republic, during the Civil War, to issue paper money as a legal tender, the court sustained the constitutionality of the act, as coming within the implied powers of the Constitution, although the direct grant of such a power in the body of the instrument had been expressly excluded by the framers. Listen to the common-sense view of Mr. Justice Miller on this subject :

"The coin in the country, if it could all have been placed within the control of the Secretary of the Treasury, would not have made a circulation sufficient to answer army purchases and army payments, to say nothing of the ordinary business of the country. A general collapse of credit, of payment, and of business seemed inevitable, in which faith in the ability of the government would have been destroyed, the rebellion would have triumphed, the States would have been left divided, and the people impoverished. The National Government would have perished, and, with it, the Constitution which we are now called upon to construe with such nice and critical accuracy."

The history of American diplomacy affords a most striking example of this common-sense principle of government and of its power and effectiveness. The secrecy, subtlety, and reserve which characterize the diplomacy of the Old World have been abandoned. Our intercourse with foreign nations is marked by openness, directness, simplicity, while observant of all customary proprieties and courtesies. It has been distinguished by an honesty of purpose and a high moral tone. It has also been pacific, humane, and conducted with due recognition of the rights of others. Its triumphs of the past few years in the far East and elsewhere, and notably in the recent action of President Roosevelt, have placed the United States in the very front rank among the Great Powers of the world. America has become the peacemaker of nations.

There are also numerous instances of the exercise of the same qualities of plain wisdom and good sense by our great leaders in critical periods of the nation's history. What more sublime act of practical wisdom has the world witnessed than the conduct of Washington at the close of the Revolutionary War, and at the head of a victorious army? Casting aside personal ambition and the machinations of designing men, he journeyed to Annapolis, and, entering the Hall of Congress, took the seat assigned him. The presiding officer then declared that "the United States in Congress assembled were prepared to receive his communication." Rising from his seat with a majesty and dignity beyond that of any crowned king, Washington, in his most impressive manner, said:

"The great events on which my resignation depended having at length taken place, I now have the honor of offering my sincere congratulations to Congress, and of presenting myself before them, to surrender into their hands the trust committed to me, and to claim the indulgence of retiring from the service of my country."

Turn to another instance of the highest practical wisdom by the author of the Declaration of Independence. Jefferson had grave doubts of the power of the United States, under the Constitution, to acquire the vast territory covered by the Louisiana Purchase. "If, however," he wrote, "our friends shall think differently, certainly I shall acquiesce with satisfaction, confident that the good sense of our country will correct the evil of construction when it shall produce ill effects." Waiving his scruples as to the constitutionality of the measure, trusting to the good sense of the people to correct the evil, if it should prove to be such, and in obedience to the popular mandate, Jefferson took advantage of this golden opportunity which, in the words of Grover Cleveland, "doubled the area of the young American nation, and dedicated a new and wide domain to American progress and achievement."

In the construction of the Constitution, John Marshall disdained all theories and abstractions. He cared nothing for the doctrine that a Federal Union is a mere league of sovereign states, that theoretically there can be no such thing as a sovereign over sovereigns, that theoretically a sovereign state may annul any act of the central power and withdraw from the voluntary compact whenever it deems it expedient so to do. On the contrary, he declared that the Constitution must be made to fulfil the great practical purposes for which it was designed. The Constitution was ordained by the people as the paramount law of the land, supreme over Congress and State legislatures. It organized a government complete within itself. It established a perpetual Union, and safeguarded the rights of the people. It was not "a magnificent structure," "totally unfit for use," "but a competent guardian of all that is near and dear to us as a nation." It was by the application of these common-sense principles in the construction of the Constitution that Marshall cemented the Union and made us one people.

We may turn for another example to that statesman and martyr President, the product of American institutions, the most American of all Americans — Abraham Lincoln. Of him it was said: "His was the genius of common sense; of common sense in action; of common sense in thought; of common sense enriched by experience and unhindered by fear." Lincoln was not only the incarnation of sound sense, but of prophetic vision. He early foresaw that the Union would be preserved and slavery abolished: "A house divided against itself cannot stand. I believe this government cannot endure permanently half free and half slave. I do not expect the Union to be dissolved; I do not expect the house to fall, but I do expect it will cease to be divided." The war came. Its primary object was to save the Union; but imbedded in that issue was slavery — the most perplexing and seemingly insoluble problem of the time. Lincoln was convinced that slavery could not be abolished under the Constitution except as a war measure, and that it would be fatal to the cause to precipitate action before the time was ripe. He managed this situation with consummate tact and skill. No solicitation, no vituperation could hasten his action on this momentous issue. On August 23, 1863, he wrote Horace Greeley: "I would save the Union, I would save it the shortest way under the Constitution. . . . If I could save the Union without freeing any slave, I would do it; and if I could save it by freeing all the slaves, I would do it; and if I could save it by freeing some and leaving others alone, I would also do that. What I do about slavery and the colored race, I do because I believe it helps to save the Union. I shall do less whenever I shall believe what I am doing hurts the cause, and I shall do more whenever I shall believe doing more will help the cause. I shall try to correct errors when shown to be errors, and I shall adopt new views as fast as they shall appear to be true views."

At the time this letter was penned, Lincoln had already made a draft of the Emancipation Proclamation; but, in his judgment, the time had not yet arrived for its promulgation. The aspect of the war soon changed, and the proclamation followed. With what simplicity, power, and beauty did he define his position, and the ground on which he justified his action in this lofty closing passage: "And upon this act, seriously believed to be an act of justice, warranted by the Constitution upon military necessity, I invoke the considerate judgment of mankind and the gracious favor of Almighty God." It was Lincoln's practical judgment in the supreme crisis of the Nation's history which maintained the Union and abolished slavery.

It has sometimes happened that the judgment of the people has been wiser than the judgment of their great leaders. Recall the movement by prominent members of his own party to force Lincoln to withdraw or resign, after his renomination in June, 1864, and how, in this dark hour of the Republic, the plain people, rising in their might, said: "No, this is our President. He sprang from our loins, he is confronted with the most difficult task which ever fell to mortal man; but if any one can save the Union and end this dreadful war, he can; we trust him, we believe in him, we love him." The people then saw what the whole world soon acknowledged — that Abraham Lincoln was the master spirit, that his grasp of the situation and knowledge of men were unexcelled, that beneath that tall, gaunt frame, that unconventionalism, that homeliness of manner, tinged at all times with a weird melancholy, if not despair, there lay hidden the most gentle, the most heroic, the grandest soul in American history.

They tell us that Americans are becoming fatalists, that this is manifested in our belief in the "divine mission of the Republic," in our faith that God has chosen this nation to work out, under His protecting hand and for all humanity, a higher type of civilization, in the conviction that the Federal Constitution is the very Ark of the Covenant "whereon no man may lay rash hands," and in our intense confidence in the soundness of our institutions and the future of our country. Be it so! We do not wonder at the charge. The success of this experiment in government is the marvel of history. This rule of the people has brought forth a political and social organization of which the world never dreamed. Here are exhibited political institutions which have shown a stability and, at the same time, an elasticity beyond those of any other form of government.

Here is a society which possesses all the elements of the highest civilization and progress. Look for a moment at this country to-day from an educational and religious point of view, as seen by two pre-eminent scholars and thinkers, one an Englishman and the other an American. James Bryce says: "There has been within these last thirty-five years a development of the higher education in the United States perhaps without a parallel in the world."

Charles W. Eliot says: "The successful establishment and support of religious institutions — churches, seminaries, and religious charities — upon a purely voluntary system, is an unprecedented achievement of the American democracy." "A similar exhibition of diffused mental and moral energy has accompanied the establishment and the development of a system of higher instruction in the United States, with no inheritance of monastic endowments, and no gifts from royal or ecclesiastical personages disposing of great resources derived from the State, and with but scanty help from the public purse." "The endowment of institutions of education, including libraries and museums, by private persons in the United States is a phenomenon without precedent or parallel, and is a legitimate effect of democratic institutions. Under a tyranny — were it that of a Marcus Aurelius — or an oligarchy — were it as enlightened as that which now rules Germany — such a phenomenon would be simply impossible."

But the most remarkable feature of this American democracy is its mighty reserve power. It is "the people's goverment, made for the people, made by the people, and answerable to the people." Each citizen is a ruler of the Republic, a participator in its greatness and its glory, its joys and its sorrows. He knows that its fame and power rest on his own exertions. He realizes that he is a citizen of a vast country which stretches across a continent. He recognizes the strength and excellence of popular government, because he is one of the people. He makes a rigid Constitution elastic whenever it obstructs the progress or endangers the safety of the Republic. He feels the sense of personal responsibility which attaches to his own work. He is law-abiding, because he makes the laws and recognizes the necessity of obeying them. He believes in the fullest publicity, a free press, free inquiry, and a full discussion. He believes in equality and a fair field for all. He has faith in the "curative power of freedom." He is conservative in his fundamental beliefs. He has faith in God and in mankind. He has the highest regard for public obligations and the financial standing of the nation. He believes in a state system of primary education. Being fair-minded and temperate, he will not consciously legislate against the rich or the poor. Possessing political power and civil rights, he has nothing to fight for, nothing to rebel against. He is self-confident, self-reliant, and cool-headed. He has the "independence of conscious strength." He is just, and regardful of the equal rights of others. He is opposed to war. He is magnanimous in victory. He is a believer in liberty, humanity, and peace and good will among the nations of the earth. He is no iconoclast; he believes in building up, and not in tearing down. He cares little for tendencies, theories, or abstractions. He will take a little less individualism or a little more paternalism, a little less protection or a little more free trade, if at any time he thinks it best meets the public wants. He has a large reserve fund of practical wisdom. He addresses himself to the questions of the hour. The storms of party passion, the waves of corruption, may beat about him, but he is always conscious of his own supreme power, and that he is the master of the situation. He fears neither discussion nor agitation, socialism nor imperialism. He is himself the dictator, the only Cæsar whom he recognizes. He sits upon the throne. He both reigns and governs. He is the State. He stands for the business judgment of the people as the controlling factor in government. He is the embodiment of common sense brought to bear as the governing force in the state. Herein lies the explanation of the all-subduing power and efficiency of this new force in government. This is the reason why this country has been able to maintain a democratic form of government and a Federal Union for more than a century, to secure liberty and equality for all men, to meet and overcome every national crisis, and to advance step by step to its present position of power and influence among the great nations of history.

Fellow citizens, I believe in this celebration. I believe with John Adams that this anniversary should be forever dedicated to patriotic rejoicings, and where more fittingly than in this temple consecrated for so many generations to human liberty? I believe that on this day every American should bend the knee in devout thankfulness and gratitude to Almighty God that his lot is cast in this favored land and under the mild sway of these institutions. Fortunate, prosperous, free America! Look in upon the past pages of history. Look out upon the present face of this star, and where will you find such a picture of human society? Cross the Atlantic to the nations of Europe, cross the Pacific to the nations of the Orient; turn to the fairest picture of man in the ancient world, when Rome in the age of the Antonines "comprehended the fairest part of the earth and the most civilized portion of mankind": contrast these pictures of society with the comfort, the well-being, the happiness of the people, which America presents at this hour.

Our political horizon may not be free from clouds. There is no such thing as perfection on earth. Man is an imperfect being, and governments reflect that imperfection. Everything in this world is relative. We can only judge by comparison. We have our problems, but what are they in comparison with those which to-day confront England, France, Germany, Italy, Austria, Russia, and the nations of the far East?

But our problems, it may be said, are serious, and how are they to be solved? My answer is: They are to be solved as the framers solved the problem of the Federal Constitution, as Lincoln solved the problem of emancipation, as Theodore Roosevelt and John Hay are solving the problems of diplomacy, as the people have solved all the great problems since the Declaration of Independence — by unfettered discussion, by looking at the question from all points of view, by the reconciliation of jealousies and differences, by mutual concession, by compromises, by fairness and honesty of purpose, by a recognition of mutual rights, by forbearance, human sympathy, and charity, and by ever bearing in mind that government has its limitations, that God did not create men of equal capacity and energy, and that nature has decreed that wealth and labor are inseparable.

Fellow citizens, this American Republic is marching to the conquest of the world. Every governmental change in Europe is a change in the direction of American institutions. Monarchy, class-rule, the traditions of the past are crumbling, and states and peoples are drifting towards this American ideal. The benign rays from this new star are spreading hope and rejoicing to all mankind. It is to the West the world is now looking. It is from the West the world is now receiving light. This is the American age. We have discovered the best and the strongest governing force known to man. It is founded upon human nature. It is based on the primal elements of our being. It springs from God Himself. It pleads for the down-trodden and oppressed of all nations, for the abolition of caste and privilege and the mediæval traditions which have held mankind in chains. It pleads for justice, for charity, for righteousness. This democracy of Washington and Lincoln is carved from the solid granite, and inscribed upon it in letters of gold are the eternal truths: "Peace, Humanity, Liberty."

I have faith in the perpetuity of American institutions; but if in the providence of God it shall ever be our destiny to share the fate of other nations, if it shall ever be found that this government by the people is mortal, if it shall ever come to pass in the far-off time that some future Gibbon shall write the history of The Decline and Fall of the American Republic — our greatness and our glory will still survive, since we have accomplished a work more sublime than the intellectual beauty of classic Greece, more enduring than the Civil Law of imperial Rome, and grander than all the triumphs of civilization in the modern world — for we have given to humanity and the coming ages the immortal principle that man, made in the image of his Creator, is capable of self-government.

MESSAGE OF THE MAYOR

RECOMMENDING

APPROPRIATIONS AND TAX ORDERS FOR 1905-1906,

TOGETHER WITH THE

ANNUAL ESTIMATES OF THE DEPARTMENTS.

Mayor's Office,
Boston, Mass., February 6, 1905.

To the City Council:

In accordance with section 8 of chapter 266 of the Acts of 1885, I have the honor to transmit the estimates of the several departments, with my recommendations thereon.

The estimates of many of the departments, as usual, largely exceed the amounts available from the revenues of the city; and, after great care, the whole sum has been distributed so that no branch of the public service shall suffer — though, if conditions were different, several of the departments would be more generously treated. We are living under a tax limit fixed by law, and have no power to alter the conditions that exist under it; and all the departments must exercise the closest economy to live within the amounts appropriated for them, and to make both ends meet.

The total amount that can be appropriated this year is but $125,238 more than last year, or less than half the increase of last year over the amount available in 1903. The increase in the current revenue of the city, it will be seen, is small and slow, while the demands of the institutions of our own creation, and our obligations to the Commonwealth — not self-imposed — must be met; and we must make our appropriations according to the limit of our power to pay.

I most earnestly ask that this suggested appropriation bill be adopted by you, as all factors of income and expenditure have been prayerfully worked out before presentation.

Respectfully,

PATRICK A. COLLINS,

Mayor.

CITY OF BOSTON.

APPROPRIATION AND TAX ORDERS FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR 1905–1906.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of February, 1905, of performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the City of Boston, or the County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof, and to meet their respective obligations for interest on debt, sinking-fund requirements, and maturing debt not provided for by sinking-fund, the respective sums of money hereinafter specified be, and the same are, hereby appropriated for the several departments, and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriations for Water Department, current expenses, and the payments to the State under the provisions of chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895 and acts in addition or amendment thereto, and for the interest requirement for loans issued for water purposes, be met by the income from said works and any excess over income from taxes ; that the other appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury at the close of business on January 31, 1905, exclusive of the money raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust, or special appropriation, and by the income of the financial year, beginning February 1, 1905, and by taxes to the amount of $13,890,932, and that said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates taxable in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city, but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division for any other department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston, be paid into the general treasury and then credited to the appropriation of the department or division rendering such service or doing such work, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof.

Ordered, That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations aforesaid, the City Treasurer issue and sell, at such times and in such amounts as he may deem best, bonds, notes, or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston, not exceeding seven million dollars in the total, in anticipation of the taxes of the current municipal year; that all such bonds, notes or certificates of indebtedness be dated the day the money for the same is received, be made payable with the interest thereon at the office of the City Treasurer within the current municipal year, from the taxes of said year, and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as said Treasurer shall deem proper.

Ordered, That all taxes raised to meet the appropriations of the City Council, and all taxes assessed for meeting the city's proportion of the State tax of the year 1905, or of any other taxes or assessments payable to the Commonwealth, be due and payable on the first day of October, 1905; that all such taxes paid after the first day of November, 1905, bear interest from and including said day until paid, at the rate of six per cent. per annum, except the taxes assessed upon shares of stock of national banks shall bear interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum from and including said first day of November until paid; and that all interest which shall have become due on taxes shall be added to and be a part of such taxes.

Ordered, That the City Auditor, from time to time during the year, may, with the approval of the Mayor, make transfers within any department from the appropriation for current expenses of one division of a department to the appropriation for current expenses of any other division of the same department, and may, with the further approval of the Committee on Finance, make transfers from the Reserve Fund to any appropriation for current expenses of a department; and that said Auditor may, with the approval of the Mayor, between December 1, 1905, and February 1, 1906, make transfers from any appropriation to any other appropriation, and apply any of the income and taxes not disposed of in closing the accounts for the financial year.

HON. PATRICK A. COLLINS,
Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR, — I estimate the expenses of the Board of Aldermen for the next financial year as follows:

Salaries of board and secretary	$21,500 00

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

OLD COURT HOUSE, January 4, 1905.

HON. PATRICK A. COLLINS,

Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR, — In answer to your circular asking for estimates for the next financial year, I estimate that the amount needed for the department will be $104,220, divided as follows:

Salaries	$92,520 00
Printing, binding, stationery and office supplies	4,000 00
Conveyance	6,000 00
Securing unsafe buildings	500 00
Rentals of telephones	800 00
Miscellaneous	400 00
	$104,220 00

The appropriation allowed for the past fiscal year was	$104,000 00
Amount expended	102,700 00
Balance	$1,300 00

The balance of $1,300 was gained by employing a consulting engineer when actually necessary, instead of appointing an engineer at $2,000 per annum.

In my judgment the full amount for engineering services will be necessary for this year.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES MULCAHY,

Building Commissioner.

BOARD OF APPEAL.

BOSTON, December 31, 1904.

HON. PATRICK A. COLLINS,

Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR, — In reply to your circular, I would say that basing the probable needs of the Board of Appeal for the year 1905 upon the payments made during the year 1904, the amount of appropriation should be $3,000.

It is impossible to foretell the amount that may be needed for any one year, as no salaries are paid, and the payment is made for actual services and such expenses as may be incurred.

The payment for services in any one year is limited by statute to $3,000.

Yours respectfully,

ARTHUR G. EVERETT,

Secretary Board of Appeal.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 16, 1904.

HON. PATRICK A. COLLINS,

Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR, — The Trustees acknowledge the receipt of your circular letter No. 33, requesting us to render an estimate of the ordinary current expenditures of the Hospital Department for the coming year. In accordance therewith, we beg to submit the following estimates:

For the Main Hospital:
For Supplies	$145,000 00
Salaries and labor	127,000 00
Fuel	28,000 00
Medical supplies	35,000 00
Buildings and grounds	26,500 00
		$361,500 00
For the South Department:
For Supplies	$33,000 00
Salaries and labor	33,000 00
Fuel	10,000 00
Medical supplies	3,000 00
Buildings and grounds	6,000 00
		85,000 00
For Convalescent Home		9,500 00
For the Relief Station		34,000 00
Total estimate for expenditures		$490,000 00
Estimated income from paying patients, etc.		$50,000 00
Estimated income from old material		150 00
		$50,150 00

The sub-totals and total for the Hospital Department for the present fiscal year, 1904–05, was $486,991, that being the total amount at their disposal. The Trustees now request that they be given an appropriation for the coming year, 1905–06, the same as was requested for the fiscal year 1904–05. Some of the items will be found to have an increase and some a decrease, but the sum total remains about the same. For instance, while the number of employees practically remains the same, the expenditure on wages and labor has increased on account of the demands for increased schedule of labor in many directions. The Trustees, with the co-operation of the Visiting Staff, however, have been able to decrease the expenditures in such matters as surgical dressings and subsistence supplies, with still further economy in the prices paid for the same. The Hospital will have two more wards to run during the whole of the coming year than it has had, except during the last half of the present year, which means more labor and material. The Out-Patient Departments, also, will have to be provided for for the whole year, whereas they have only been opened in the new Out-Patient Department Building during the last half of the present year.

There have been treated during the eleven and fifteen-thirtieths months of the present year the following number of persons:

At the main Hospital, in its wards	8,313
At the South Department, in the wards . . .	2,211
At the Relief Station, in the wards	2,913
At the Convalescent Home	355
In the Out-Patient Departments of the Hospital proper,	33,610
At the Relief Station, as out-patients	29,417
Making a total of	76,819

who have in one way or another received the benefits of the various hospital departments during the present year.

I am pleased to say, for and in behalf of the Trustees, that in spite of the large demands for expenditures in many directions, the Hospital Department has been so managed as to keep entirely within the appropriation made for the department at the beginning of the year.

The Trustees present as an estimate income for the coming year $50,150. The Trustees desire to call your Honor's attention to the fact that there has been a steady decrease in the amount of money received on account of the board of State charges, whereas there has been a constant increase in the amount of money received from cities and towns. This loss of income to the city is caused by the severe and inequitable auditing of the bills rendered by the Hospital against the Commonwealth. In 1902, 3,581 bills were rendered, amounting to $92,033, and the city received only $21,373; in 1903, 2,822 bills were rendered, amounting to $58,816, and only $25,308 was received. The present year is incomplete, but in the eleven months of this year only $10,431 has been received.

While the Hospital is maintained from its annual appropriation, the City of Boston should be reimbursed for just and equitable claims against the Commonwealth for the support of its charges in the various departments of the Hospital.

I send appended to this communication the (approximate) actual expenditures for the present fiscal year.

Respectfully submitted, for the Trustees.

A. SHUMAN,
President.

CHILDREN'S INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

30 TREMONT STREET,
BOSTON, December 28, 1904.

HON. PATRICK A. COLLINS,

Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR, — The Trustees for Children would respectfully submit the following estimates of the expenditures for the Children's Institutions Department for 1905–06:

PLACING OUT AND OFFICE DIVISION.

Board of children in families in the country under our supervision	$41,500 00
Salaries of agents and employees	12,000 00
Clothing and furnishings for children	6,500 00
Transportation and travelling expenses	5,000 00
Doctors and medicines	2,500 00
Miscellaneous, including office expenses, telephone, printing and stationery, legal service (account adoptions), and express on clothing	2,500 00
	$70,000 00
Board of children at the Massachusetts School for the Feeble-Minded, Hospital for Epileptics, Hospital Cottages and other institutions	26,000 00
Total	$96,000 00

This is the same as the amount asked for last year, although the Trustees have been able to leave an unexpended balance of about $4,000. This was made possible by the fact that there was a reduction in the number of children boarded in private families and in the School for the Feeble-

Minded. There is, however, no reason to suppose that this decrease in the number of boarded children will be a permanent one; in fact, the number is already beginning to increase again. When certain buildings now under construction at the School for the Feeble-Minded are completed, it will be necessary to place a large number of new children in that school.

HOUSE OF REFORMATION.

These figures are very closely calculated, and make no allowance for possible accidents. The water pipes are now out of order; although a few days ago it seemed probable that a serious break had been avoided, the loss of pressure at the Island which has now occurred again makes it possible that it will be necessary to spend a good deal of money on account of this break, of which no reckoning is made in the estimate.

Salaries	$16,866 00
Subsistence and ice	8,140 00
Clothing and bedding	1,600 00
Fuel and light	5,000 00
Furniture and utensils	800 00
Repairs and improvements	2,400 00
Agricultural supplies	1,800 00
School supplies	650 00
Medical supplies	290 00
Soap	350 00
Miscellaneous, including telephone, stationery, postage, express, entertainment, etc.	400 00
	$38,296 00
Supplies for printing and shoe departments	5,000 00
	$43,296 00

PARENTAL SCHOOL.

Salaries	$27,000 00
Subsistence and ice	11,500 00
Clothing and bedding	2,100 00
Medical supplies	500 00
Fuel and lights	6,800 00
Furniture and utensils	850 00
Repairs and improvements	3,500 00
Agricultural supplies	1,800 00
Carried forward	$54,050 00

Brought forward	$54,050 00
School supplies	500 00
Soap and laundry supplies	800 00
Miscellaneous, including printing and stationery, postage, entertainment, telephone, library supplies, expressage and travelling expenses . .	870 00
Total	$56,220 00

The last appropriation for the Parental School proved insufficient, and it was necessary to transfer a part of the unexpended balance of the Placing Out and Office Division appropriation to supply the deficit. Although there has been a slight decrease in the number of boys at the Parental School the past year, it is probable that the new law of indeterminate sentences will, at first, have the effect of increasing the number of boys. The estimates are made up with practically no allowance for any accidents nor extraordinary expenses.

Respectfully yours,

Charles P. Putnam,

Chairman.

PAUPER INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

28 COURT SQUARE,
BOSTON, December 15, 1904.

HON. PATRICK A. COLLINS,

Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR, — As is provided by chapter 3, section 23, of the Revised Ordinances, the estimates in detail for the appropriation which will be required to enable this department to perform its duties and work during the next financial year, together with an estimate of the expenditures of the department for the year ending January 31, 1905, is respectfully forwarded.

The increase in the Long Island estimate over the expenditures for the past year is to provide for the increase in the population and the increase in the cost of subsistence.

The additional amount asked for in the pauper expense account is to cover possible expenses at the Massachusetts State Sanatorium, at Rutland. We were obliged for lack of funds this year to refuse desirable cases which should have been sent to that institution.

During the past year $25,579.69 has been spent under the appropriation for the care of epileptics, etc., but as, at two of the institutions, bills for only nine months have been met, it is estimated that for the expenses of the full year $30,000 will be necessary.

JOHN B. MARTIN,

Official in Charge of Department.

*The reason for the diminished cost last year, as compared with previous and present estimate, is explained in the statement accompanying.

There are unpaid bills on account of the fitting up of the new premises occupied by the South End branch, amounting to about $1,500, which were not received up to date of closing the accounts for the present year, and which do not appear in the column of expense for 1904, but which must be paid out of the appropriation for next year, and which have been included in the estimates. An unpaid bill for telephone service, not received before the books were closed, would bring the cost for the year to the point covered by the estimate for next year.

During the year the expenses of the department have been increased by the removal of the South End branch from the English High School building, caused by action of the School Committee terminating our tenancy, and by the occupancy of the new reading-room in the new Municipal Building at Columbia road. We occupied the rooms in the English High School building, free of rent, and were under limited outlay for light, heat and other expenses. Although obliged to leave through no act of ours, we were left without appropriation for fitting up the new quarters now held on Shawmut avenue, nor has any additional money been allowed to the department on account of rent, light, heat, janitor service, etc., which we have so far been obliged to draw out of our regular appropriation, already barely sufficient for the needs of the service, thus reducing, as will be seen, the amount available for the purchase of books, and deferring work included in our last year's estimate for repairs.

We should have $30,000 annually for books, replacements, etc., in order to maintain the efficiency of the Library, and this was the amount of our estimate last year and is repeated this year.

The statement as to expenses at the South End branch forced upon us during the year, but unprovided for in any special appropriation, applies, although in lesser degree, to the new reading-room in the Municipal Building at Columbia road. On account of these two unavoidable enlargements of expense there will be needed during the coming year for maintenance at the South End branch an estimated amount of $4,800, and at Columbia road, $1,500; and these amounts have been included in the above itemized statement, distributed through the items affected by the increased cost.

The new Municipal Building at Codman square, part of which is to be occupied as a reading-room by the Library, will be completed during the coming year. For the new books required to open this reading-room, $2,000 will be needed, and this amount should be provided in the appropriation.

Except as stated above, no material increases appear in the estimates over the actual cost of the department during the last two or three years.

Although the demands upon the service constantly increase with the growth of the city, the appropriation for several years has not materially increased:

Appropriation.	Year.
$302,000 00	1901–02
300,000 00	1902–03
305,500 00	1903–04
305,000 00	1904–05

In making up the estimates for the coming year, as will be seen, great care has been used, and no increase appears that is not absolutely required merely to maintain the department as it has existed for several years, and provide for the two extensions at the South End branch and Columbia road, — which we did not initiate, but must maintain, — and to provide for the similar special need which must be met during the year by the completion of the building at Codman square.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT.

64 PEMBERTON SQUARE,
BOSTON, December 13, 1904.

HON. PATRICK A. COLLINS,

Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR, — The Music Trustees respectfully submit the accompanying estimates.

We are pleased to report that the number of concerts actually paid for this year was ten more than in 1903, with the same appropriation; and that the department is now in possession of a music library and other musical property, costing over $500, and purchased out of the appropriation for 1904. The average cost of both the summer and the winter concerts was substantially decreased, and the office expenses also exhibit a small decrease.

Many excellent suggestions have been received and many arise within the department for extending and improving its work; but, in our opinion, nearly all are impracticable with the present appropriation. With an additional $5,000, new features could be added, the number of concerts would be greatly increased, and the average cost per concert reduced. Thus, during 1904, with an appropriation of $15,000, seventy concerts have been paid for. With $20,000, in 1905, one hundred and fifteen concerts could be paid for. With $24,000 the number could be increased to one hundred and fifty.

The Music Department has no revenue.

Respectfully,

CHARLES T. DOLAN,
Chairman.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Boston, December 20, 1904.

Hon. Patrick A. Collins,

Mayor of the City of Boston:

Sir, — In accordance with your circular letter to the heads of departments, dated December 12, I submit a specific, concise statement of the amount necessary to meet the ordinary current expenditures of this department, together with an estimate of the expenditures for the same purposes during the present financial year, as called for by your letter.

Every item for next year has been carefully considered, with a view to the strictest economy compatible with the preservation of the parks, playgrounds, and other property of the department, and their maintenance in a reasonably presentable condition for the use and enjoyment of the public.

The annual appropriations for the maintenance of our department for the last seven years have not kept pace with the increasing amount of work each year made necessary by the extension of parks and playgrounds. During this period we have added to our possessions Columbia road, the Strandway, Chestnut Hill Park, and practically all of our playgrounds except Franklin Field. A large amount of planting has also been done during the same period.

As a result of the disproportionate increase of our territory and property to the amount of our annual appropriation, the quality of maintenance we have been able to give has been steadily deteriorating, especially in the matter of roads, which in many places are worn to the foundation. We have kept them smooth by the use of steam rollers, but we have been able to do but little surfacing. The plantations of young trees have suffered from lack of cultivation, which is a serious loss to the vitality of the trees and greatly retards their growth and effectiveness.

For a partial restoration of the roads we have added to the amount spent last year, $10,884; for grounds and plantations, $6,426; for new gymnasia, $2,850; for the new parkway on which the speeding of horses is now permitted, $1,500; and for repairs of buildings, $1,036. The list of items where an increase is needed is herewith appended.

We would also call your attention to the fact that from our maintenance account of the current year, amounting to $217,310.29, we were compelled to expend on purely construction account, $15,808.92. Experience has shown that similar expenditure for construction must be expected every year and cannot be avoided.

The income of the department is estimated at $2,000.

Yours respectfully,

CHARLES E. STRATTON,

Chairman.

PUBLIC GROUNDS DEPARTMENT.

CITY GREENHOUSES, EAST COTTAGE STREET,
DORCHESTER, December 15, 1904.

HON. PATRICK A. COLLINS,

Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR, — Complying with request contained in circular 33, I beg to submit the following estimates of amounts necessary for the general and ordinary work of the department for the financial year next ensuing, and also several estimates of amounts for extra work and improvements on public grounds as detailed, for which special appropriations should be allowed. Every item is estimated at the lowest possible

In regard to the eradication of the brown-tail and tussock moths, elm leaf beetles, etc., it may seem superfluous for me to again refer to this subject, but, as danger continues to exist, and as public interest has been generally awakened to the need of energetic action, I trust you may deem it expedient to approve this item.

Once more I wish to direct particular attention to the estimate for granolithic on the railroad walk in the Common. Notwithstanding the abolishment of the Providence depot, this walk continues to be traversed far more than all the other paths in the Common combined. For years it has been worn out and unsafe, requiring frequent repairs.

The old drain in the Common, extending from the cemetery to Charles street, was irretrievably damaged while the subway was being built. As a consequence, water overflows the Common, crosses Charles street, and even submerges the Public Garden sidewalk in heavy storms.

Undoubtedly these improvements are necessary for the welfare and convenience of the public. I remain,

Your obedient servant,

WM. DOOGUE,
Superintendent.

HON. PATRICK A. COLLINS,

The amount received for marriage certificates, say, 7,000 at 50 cents each ($3,500), will be offset by the expenditure to physicians in payment of, say, 14,000 birth returns at 25 cents each.

Respectfully yours,

E. W. MCGLENEN,
City Registrar.

SINKING-FUNDS DEPARTMENT.

CITY HALL, December 23, 1904.

HON. PATRICK A. COLLINS,

Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR, — At a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of Sinking-Funds, it was Voted, To submit the following estimate of the needs of this department for the next financial year:

For salaries	$2,200 00
Printing, stationery, and incidental expenses	800 00
	$3,000 00

Respectfully submitted,

NATHANIEL J. RUST,

SOLDIERS' RELIEF DEPARTMENT.

43 Hawkins Street,
Boston, December 15, 1904.

Hon. Patrick A. Collins,

Mayor of the City of Boston:

Sir, — I have the honor to transmit the estimated expenses of the Soldiers' Relief Department for the ensuing fiscal year as follows:

	Estimates for 1905-06.	Estimated Expenditures, 1904-05.
Payments of State and military aid and soldiers' relief, sections 3, 9, and 18, chapter 79, Revised Laws,	$227,000 00	$222,554 05
Salaries	13,736 00	13,736 00
Stationery, printing and postage .	450 00	431 79
Travelling and incidental expenses .	300 00	264 09
Telephone	200 00	176 78
Burials of soldiers and their dependents, section 20, chapter 79, Revised Laws	7,000 00	6,595 00
Total	$248,686 00	$243,757 71

Of the expenses for 1904 there is due from the State of Massachusetts and payable December, 1905.	$135,192 12

By the operation of section 2, chapter 451, Acts of 1900, which took effect on January 1, 1904, the city was relieved from the support of all soldiers and their dependents in the insane hospitals, which accounts for the difference between the appropriation for the year ending January 31, 1905, and the actual expenditure during the same period.

The increase of estimate for 1905 over the actual expenditures for State and military aid, soldiers' relief and burials during 1904, about 2 per cent., is necessary to provide for the average annual increase in said items.

Respectfully submitted,

J. E. Gilman,

Commissioner.

STREET DEPARTMENT.

Boston, December 14, 1904.

Hon. Patrick A. Collins,

Mayor of the City of Boston:

Sir, — I have the honor to submit the following estimate of the appropriation necessary for the maintenance of the Street Department during the financial year ending January 31, 1906, together with a statement of the estimated income during that year:

Divisions.	Appropriations Recommended.	Estimated Income.
Central Office.	$25,000 00
Cambridge Bridges Division . .	25,000 00	$400 00
Bridge Division	205,000 00	1,000 00
Ferry Division	255,000 00	85,000 00
Paving Division	1,543,000 00	7,500 00
Sanitary Division	700,000 00	13,700 00
Sewer Division	494,000 00	76,000 00
Street-cleaning Division . .	450,000 00	2,000 00
Street-watering Division . .	190,000 00
Street Improvements . . .	500,000 00
Totals	$4,387,000 00	$185,600 00

Central Office.

The appropriation recommended is the same as last year.

Boston and Cambridge Bridges.

The Deputy Superintendent of the Bridge Division, acting as the Commissioner for Boston on Boston and Cambridge bridges, reports that it is the intention of the Commission to replace the sidewalks on Harvard bridge with hard pine planking, the expense of which has been estimated by the City Engineer to be $10,000, one-half of which, or $5,000, will have to be paid by the City of Boston. An increase of $5,000 over the appropriation of last year for this division, or a total of $25,000, is therefore required.

Bridge Division.

The estimated appropriation for this division is made up as follows:

Office expenses	$1,500 00
Salaries of office and draw-tenders' forces	115,000 00
Wages of mechanics and yard forces	34,500 00
Reconstruction and repairs	42,000 00
Maintenance, including fuel, lights, and stable expenses	12,000 00
Total	$205,000 00

FERRY DIVISION.

The estimated appropriation for this division is made up as follows:

Labor	$160,000 00
Fuel	40,000 00
Office, salaries and supplies	55,000 00
Total	$255,000 00

On account of the opening of the East Boston tunnel, it is impossible to give even an approximate estimate of the income of this division which can be expected to prove of much value.

PAVING DIVISION.

The appropriation recommended for this division is made up as follows:

Labor and salaries	$675,000 00
Labor at stone-crushers	300,000 00
Teaming (hired teams)	200,000 00
Maintaining and furnishing plant	35,000 00
Materials and supplies	183,000 00
Removal of snow	150,000 00
Total	$1,543,000 00

Especial attention is called to the importance of the item for the removal of snow. The cost of this work depends entirely upon weather conditions, and it is, therefore, impossible to lay out, in a satisfactory manner, the work to be done under the maintenance appropriation, so long as this appropriation is charged with the cost of removing snow. Heavy storms, in the early part of the financial year, are likely to reduce this appropriation so that necessary repairs and regular maintenance work cannot be performed, while, on the other hand, it is impossible to make adequate provision from this fund for storms occurring in the latter part of the year, except by neglecting the proper maintenance work of the division until the close of the year, when no such work can be done.

SANITARY DIVISION.

The appropriation recommended for this division is made up as follows:

Salaries and wages	$450,000 00
Contracts in force	95,000 00
Materials for construction and supplies, hay, grain, etc.	90,000 00
Hired teams	65,000 00
Totals	$700,000 00

Available dumps for depositing the collections of this division are hard to procure, and what few are at the disposal of the division are situated at long hauls from the centres of collection, thereby causing a great increase in the teaming rolls of the division; and, as the collections of the division show a proportionate increase year by year, it is estimated that, for the ensuing year, the teaming bills alone will amount to $65,000.

SEWER DIVISION.

The appropriation required by this division is made up as follows:

Main drainage pumping station	$135,000 00
Pumping station, Lyons street	10,500 00
Main drainage yard	35,000 00
Moon Island	20,000 00
Office and engineering force	15,000 00
Current expenses, yards, lockers, stables, etc.	75,000 00
House connections	10,000 00
Hardware, tools, rubber goods, etc.	12,000 00
Telephones (not included elsewhere)	1,500 00
Tow-boat	7,000 00
Repairing sewers and catch-basins	25,000 00
Cleaning sewers	77,000 00
Cleaning catch-basins	71,000 00
Total	$494,000 00

The maintenance appropriation covers the cost of running the Calf Pasture and Lyons-street pumping stations and of cleaning and repairing sewers and catch-basins. If the sewers and catch-basins are not maintained in a reasonably clear and clean condition, whatever floodings result must be paid for by the city in damages.

The city is not liable for the inadequate size of a sewer; but if its capacity proves inadequate on account of the fact that this capacity is materially reduced by the amount of material deposited therein, the city is liable. If catch-basins are filled up and fail to take the water from the street, which then overflows, serious damage may occur. On account of the inadequacy of the maintenance appropriation for a number of years past, the catch-basins have not been cleaned as frequently as they should have been, and that in its turn has resulted in the deposit of large quantities of heavy material in the sewers, so that it cannot be denied that the sewers and catch-basins are not now in such a condition of cleanliness as they should be to insure the city against suits for damages.

In 1892 the maintenance appropriation was $350,000, the total mileage of sewers in the city was 349, and there were about 9,800 catch-basins. The total mileage of sewers in this city now is 670, and there are 15,000 catch-basins. The mileage of sewers has increased 92 per cent. and the number of catch-basins 53 per cent. These are fair measures of the amount of maintenance work, and the amount of the maintenance appropriation should properly be increased.

If we take the increase in the mileage of sewers as a measure and the appropriation of twelve years ago as a fair one for a basis, the maintenance appropriation for the coming year should be $672,000.

STREET-CLEANING DIVISION.

The appropriation for this division is made up as follows:

Wages of labor	$300,000 00
Salaries and office expenses	11,000 00
Teaming	40,000 00
Hay and grain	19,000 00
Hired carts and repairs	25,000 00
Supplies	55,000 00
Total	$450,000 00

It is proposed to extend the limits of the push-cart patrol system during the coming season, as the demand for this branch of the street-cleaning service is becoming greater and greater every day. The new district established during the present year in Dorchester will have to be further extended during the coming year, in order to cope with the demands of the district.

Street-watering Division.

During the past season this division watered about 470 miles of street at an expense of about $165,000. An increased street mileage made necessary an increase of eight in the number of carts.

For several years the appropriation for street-watering has been restricted to an amount which would be adequate to the service only in wet or favorable seasons. Practically no consideration has been given to the natural increase in street mileage or to seasons above the average in dryness. The margin, for a service based upon weather conditions, has been altogether too small.

During the coming year the extra service required by the Bennington-street boulevard, East Boston; Columbia road, South Boston, and new streets generally, will mean the employment of ten more carts. To meet the requirements of this additional service, and to provide for all probable contingencies, the division should be given an appropriation of $190,000.

Street Improvements.

The amount requested for street improvements is the same amount which has been included in the appropriation orders for several years past.

Respectfully,

James Donovan,

Superintendent of Streets.

In anticipation of such loan, I have made my estimate for current expenses the same as last year.

COMMUNICATION

FROM THE

CORPORATION COUNSEL GIVING INFORMATION RELATIVE TO THE MASSACHUSETTS GAS COMPANIES AND THE NEW ENGLAND GAS AND COKE COMPANY.

City of Boston,
Law Department, January 19, 1905.

The Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

Gentlemen, — On January 16, 1905, you passed the following order:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be, and he hereby is, requested to furnish the Board of Aldermen at its next meeting the following information: Whether or not the Massachusetts Gas Companies is a voluntary association, and whether or not its stock, owned by residents of Boston, is subject to taxation; whether or not the capital stock of said Massachusetts Gas Companies is issued in part on the stock of the New England Gas and Coke Company; and whether or not the New England Gas and Coke Company is a voluntary association, and whether or not the stock of said New England Gas and Coke Company, owned by residents of Boston, is subject to taxation.

Although information of the kind requested seems to be outside of the duties required of me by ordinance, I will answer the questions as far as I have information on the subject.

1. The Massachusetts Gas Companies is an association whose property is held by trustees under a deed of trust.

The certificates issued to the parties supplying the funds to buy the property owned by the trustees are not exactly stock, but show that the parties holding the certificates are interested in the property in the manner set forth in the deed of trust and the by-laws of the association.

So far as the property owned by the trustees consists of real estate and is in Boston, it is taxable here. So far as it represents personal property, residents of Boston who own the certificates would be partners in the enterprise, and I suppose taxable for the value of their interests in personal property.

2. The certificates issued by the trustees of said Massachusetts Gas Companies Trust are issued on the property owned by said trustees, and I am informed that that property consists in part of the assets formerly owned by the New England Gas and Coke Company. The trustees hold, among other things, a mortgage of $8,000,000 on the property of the New England Gas and Coke Company.

3. I am informed and believe that the New England Gas and Coke Company is or was a trust or voluntary association similar to the Massachusetts Gas Companies, the Adams Express Company, the Hotel Touraine, the Old South Building, and a very large number of associations of the kind whose property is held by trustees.

The real estate belonging to the New England Gas and Coke Company is taxable in Everett.

Not knowing whether the mortgage has been foreclosed or by what arrangement the Massachusetts Gas Companies acquired the property from the receiver of the New England Gas and Coke Company, I am unable to state as to whether there are any certificates outstanding or whether they have any value.

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS M. BABSON,
Corporation Counsel.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, January 23, 1905.

VITAL RECORDS

OF THE

TOWN OF DORCHESTER

FROM

1826 TO 1849

BOSTON
MUNICIPAL PRINTING OFFICE
1905

[Document No. 54 — 1905.]

REGISTRY DEPARTMENT

OF THE

CITY OF BOSTON

RECORDS RELATING TO BIRTHS, MARRIAGES AND DEATHS OF DORCHESTER

(Formerly called Record Commissioners' Reports)

This volume, which is the thirty-sixth report in the series of Boston Records, contains the Births, Marriages and Deaths of the Town of Dorchester from 1826 to 1849, inclusive, and additional deaths, copied from epitaphs of the First Burying Ground in Dorchester, which do not appear in the Dorchester Records.

EDWARD W. McGLENEN,

City Registrar.

The following records of Births, Marriages and Deaths, include all entries found in the books of record of the Town of Dorchester from 1826 to 1849, inclusive, and all records previous to 1826 not found in volume 21 of the Record Commissioners' Reports.

Surnames are classified under the most common spelling, the other combinations following, but in the marriages the spelling as given may be found by looking up the other name.

In the records of births in several cases probable duplicates are found, the date differing a year. In such cases both entries are given, the latest entry marked "prob. dup."

An asterisk before a marriage indicates that the spelling compares exactly with the intention. Where a difference appears, it is noted; where no asterisk appears, or difference in spelling is noted, no intention was found.

Instead of printing the name of the minister after each marriage a number is substituted, which will be found against the name in the list of ministers. In many cases the name of the minister is not given, especially on returns from other towns.

In the records of deaths at the beginning of 1841 the following note appears: "Buried the day set down to each person," but in some cases two dates are given, presumably date of death and burial, and in such cases both dates are given. In 1844 the word "died" appears before the date, which would indicate that the date of death was recorded.

Following the regular lists of deaths, a supplement has been added which includes all deaths printed in the Annual Report of the Cemetery Department, 1904–05, copied from gravestones and tombs of the North District Burial Ground and which do not appear in our records.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

TRANSMITTING

OPINION OF CORPORATION COUNSEL ON RENTALS FOR USE OF AREAS UNDER SIDEWALKS.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 9, 1905.

To the Common Council:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Corporation Counsel in answer to your order asking "if the City of Boston has the right to charge rental for the use of land occupied in areas, etc., within the street limits."

Respectfully,

Patrick A. Collins,
Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, 73 Tremont Street,
Boston, January 27, 1905.

The Honorable Common Council:

Gentlemen, — I am asked by you, through the Mayor, to give my opinion as to the rights of the City of Boston to receive rentals for the use and occupation of areas under sidewalks for the purpose of carrying on business therein.

Under the laws of this Commonwealth the easement of travel, the rights of the public in highways, are the property of the people of Massachusetts and are in the control of the Legislature, although the Legislature delegates more or less of its authority in particular cases to different public officers, who are usually officers of municipalities. The fee of the highway, the ownership of the soil, belongs to the abutters, and they can use the portion of the highway owned by them until the public authorities decide that they need the whole of the highway, both above and beneath the surface, for public purposes. In some of the more recently located streets the city owns by purchase the fee of the highway, but in those cases it was deeded by the former owners to the city to be used for the purposes of a street.

It follows, therefore, that except in those few cases where the city owns absolutely the fee of the highway it cannot charge rentals for the use and occupation of areas under the sidewalks. If the public do not want to use the whole of the underground portion of the highways the abutters have a right to use the areas under the sidewalks under such conditions and restrictions as are imposed by public authorities having charge of the highways for the safety and convenience of travellers thereon. The moment that the public wants to use the whole of the highway, then the right of the abutter to use such areas ceases.

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS M. BABSON,

Corporation Counsel.

IN COMMON COUNCIL, February 9, 1905.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances and ordered to be printed.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

TRANSMITTING

OPINION OF CORPORATION COUNSEL ON TAXATION OF PUBLIC SERVICE CORPORATIONS FOR USE OF PUBLIC STREETS.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 9, 1905.

To the Common Council:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Corporation Counsel, in answer to your order of January 19 asking "whether or not the city can legally tax public service corporations for the use of public streets."

Respectfully,

Patrick A. Collins,

Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, 73 Tremont Street,
Boston, January 27, 1905.

The Honorable Common Council:

Gentlemen, — I am asked for my opinion on the following subject: Whether or not the city can legally tax public service corporations for the use of public streets.

In Massachusetts, municipalities, like other corporations, derive all their powers from the Legislature. They are merely instrumentalities through which in part the Commonwealth exercises its powers of government. Their rights and powers can be taken away from them at any time. In this respect the Constitution and laws of this State as interpreted by our courts differ from those of many other States. In Massachusetts public ways belong to the people of the Commonwealth. To the municipalities is given the burden of building them and keeping them in repair, and they are made responsible to travellers for accidents which occur by reason of their not keeping the ways within their limits in repair. The fee of the highway almost always belongs to the abutter, subject to the rights of the Legislature, to use the whole of the highway above or below the surface for any purpose connected with the transportation of travellers or of any merchandise or substance which the public may want to move through the highway either above or below the surface. The Legislature says, therefore, what public service corporations can use the highways, and the manner in which they are to use them, what compensation, if any, they are to give to the public for such use, and the control which the local authorities are to exercise over them.

The Legislature not having authorized the city to tax public service corporations for the use of public streets, the city cannot tax such corporations in any different manner from that already provided by the Statutes of the Commonwealth.

In the words of Mr. Healy, one of my predecessors, found in City Document No. 21, 1860, "There is no legal authority in the City Council or either branch of it to lease the streets or to grant special or exclusive privileges in them for compensation."

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS M. BABSON,
Corporation Counsel.

IN COMMON COUNCIL, February 9, 1905.

REPORT

OF A

SPECIAL COMMITTEE OF THE COMMON COUNCIL APPOINTED TO OBTAIN CERTAIN INFORMATION RELATIVE TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF SEWERS.

City of Boston,
In Common Council, March 9, 1905.

The special committee of the Common Council appointed to obtain certain information relative to the construction of sewers, respectfully report that they have attended to the duty assigned them, and transmit herewith the information requested in the order for their appointment.

For the Committee,

William J. Barrett,
Chairman.

In Common Council, March 9, 1905.

Accepted, and ordered to be printed.

WILLIAM J. BARRETT, ESQ.,
Chairman Special Committee of Common Council:

DEAR SIR, — In accordance with your request of to-day, I enclose report in relation to expenditure under loan for sewerage works.

Respectfully,

JAMES DONOVAN,
Superintendent of Streets.

CITY OF BOSTON,
STREET DEPARTMENT, SEWER DIVISION,
BOSTON, MASS., March 3, 1905.

To the Superintendent of Streets:

DEAR SIR, — In response to the request of the Common Council, "That the Superintentent of Streets be requested to report to the Common Council at its next meeting the number of sewers which it is proposed to construct under the loan order authorized by chapter 426 of the Acts of 1897, the estimated cost of each sewer, where the same are to be built, the number to be constructed of concrete, the number to be constructed of brick, the estimated cost of concrete construction, and the estimated cost of brick construction," I forward to you the statement of sewerage works which I reported to Mr. Phillips, the Deputy Superintendent, on January 18, as being those which, in my opinion, I considered necessary work, the same being a selection from a much larger list of desirable work. This list aggregates $1,264,000. The city government has seen fit to authorize a loan of $800,000. It therefore follows that not all these various items can be attended to, but that a selection must be made.

I do not consider it feasible to select a list aggregating $800,000 of expense at this time, and attempt to adhere to the same through the remainder of the year. There should be a certain degree of flexibility in the plans of the Superintendent, because conditions change as the year progresses. Later on some work will assume greater relative importance than it now has; demands from some sections will become more pressing; bad sanitary conditions may develop in some places and not in others; orders of the Board of Health may give prominence to some work over other work.

There will undoubtedly be cases drawn to our attention which will be urgent, and of which we are not now informed, as this happens every year. So that if an attempt was made to select a list out of the accompanying lists, and make the statement that these jobs, and only these, would be built during the year, in all human probability it would not be possible to adhere to it. Therefore it seems to me that the best reply that can be made to this query is to show the list as made up at the time the million dollar loan was asked for. In general, the policy of this division has been to follow the recommendations which have been made from year to year since the Sewerage Act was passed in 1897, to the end that the entire system may be developed to the best interests of the city.

Another query of the Common Council is, "the number to be constructed of concrete and the number to be constructed of brick." I would state in reply, first, that the majority of the items in this list will not be constructed either of brick or concrete, but of pipe. In regard to the number of the remaining masonry jobs, which may be built of concrete or may be built of brick, I would state that that point has not yet been determined, nor can it be intelligently determined at the present writing, as upon opening up the ground conditions may be found to exist that will at once determine the character of the masonry construction for the entire work.

The last query is, "the estimated cost of concrete construction and the estimated cost of brick construction." The estimated cost of either form of masonry depends largely upon the conditions, locations, and the volume of the work. A rough general statement would be that a cubic yard of concrete can generally be placed for less money than a cubic yard of brickwork.

Yours respectfully,

E. S. DORR,
Chief Engineer.

In the foregoing statement no mention has been made of the Stony brook jobs, although the city is authorized by a clause in the Charles River Basin Act to do work upon these channels with the money of the Sewerage Loan. The estimate for rebuilding the old channel of Stony brook is $300,000, and for the extension of the Commissioners' channel from Jamaica Plain to Forest Hills is about $900,000. It is highly desirable that some work should be done on each of these channels during the present year. A fair season's work would be perhaps $50,000 on the old channel, and $150,000 on the extension of the Commissioners' channel.

Neither has there been included any estimate for the work in the South Metropolitan District in conversion of combined systems to separate system, or the building of large high level intercepting sewers. On the latter item, namely, the building of high level intercepting sewers, there is $693,000 worth of work which should be done during the coming year. I have assumed that this work will be done with moneys to be obtained under the Separate System Loan.

It is also very probable that work of conversion of the Back Bay systems to separate systems will have to be begun during the coming year. No estimate for this work has been included. I have assumed that if this work is done it will be with moneys obtained by some special loan.

Yours respectfully,

E. S. DORR,

Chief Engineer.

MESSAGE OF THE ACTING MAYOR

TRANSMITTING

A COMMUNICATION FROM BOARD OF SCHOOL-HOUSE COMMISSIONERS RELATIVE TO COST OF CONSTRUCTING PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 16, 1905.

To the Common Council:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners, in answer to an order of your body requesting information as to the cost of school-houses.

Respectfully,

Daniel A. Whelton.
Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Schoolhouse Department, March 10, 1905.

To the Acting Mayor,

Hon. Daniel A. Whelton, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Sir, — In response to the order of the Common Council, that this Board be requested to give the figures on the Washington, Mather, and Dearborn Schools, and to reply to a statement made publicly before a committee of the Massachusetts Legislature on March 8, 1905, that it cost the City of Boston twice as much to build school-houses under the Boston Schoolhouse Commission as it did under the School Committee, I beg to make the following statement:

I will take first three grammar schools erected by the School Committee — the Roger Wolcott, the Bigelow, and the Chapman. In giving the cost per cubic foot the figures of these buildings will be taken off on exactly the same basis as that employed in taking off the quantities of the buildings referred to, erected by this Board. In calculating the cost per pupil, the actual number of class-rooms will be multiplied by fifty, and the cost divided by this amount to give the cost per pupil.

The Roger Wolcott has fourteen class-rooms. Its cubical contents are 741,174 cubic feet, its cost $137,481.80; the cost per pupil was therefore $196. This building is of second-class construction, with wooden floors, wooden partitions, wooden roof, wooden upper floors in the corridors, and since it was completed we have had to spend a large amount to put the heating apparatus in order.

The Bigelow School is a Grammar School, having nineteen class-rooms. Its cubical contents are 828,515 cubic feet. It cost $175,201.92, a cost of $184 per pupil. Like the Roger Wolcott, it is of second-class construction throughout. We have had to make extensive repairs on the heating apparatus, and are preparing to put on a new roof in place of one which has almost gone to pieces.

The Chapman is a Grammar School of sixteen rooms, its cubical contents being 753,303 cubic feet, and its cost $124,-836.30, making the cost per pupil $156. This building, also, is of second-class construction.

The Washington School contains thirty rooms. Its cubical contents is 1,300,792 cubic feet, and its cost $319,720, or a cost of $213.15 per pupil. This building is of first-class construction throughout, is built in a very contracted space, and has in addition to the usual accommodation for a grammar school a gymnasium and a very expensive roof, arranged so that the children can use it for a playground.

The Mather School is a grammar building, containing thirty-two rooms, its cubical contents being 1,353,831 cubic feet and its cost $285,179, a cost per pupil of $177.93. This building, also, is of first-class construction throughout, and has space in the basement on the boys' side corresponding to that in the basement on the girls' side, wherein in the future four class-rooms can be fitted up, making the accommodation in this building in the future thirty-six class-rooms.

The Dearborn School is a grammar school containing twenty-one class-rooms, its cubical contents being 980,100 and its cost $223,446, the cost per pupil therefore being $212.80. This building is planned, with its heating apparatus, sanitation, and assembly hall, to take care of a completed building to have twelve rooms more. The proportionate cost per room of the first construction is necessarily more than it would be in a building entirely complete in itself. It had also the added expense of extremely expensive piled foundations.

In making the above comparison I have taken the three buildings referred to by the Common Council. Two of these were erected before the Board had arrived at their present method of checking the proper quantities and cost for a grammar building.

On the present basis of figuring it is found that the accurate cost for a small grammar building would be in the neighborhood of $200 per pupil, and that the cost of a large grammar building would be about $175. We have under erection now a large grammar building, the Oliver Wendell Holmes School, which will be completed below this lowest figure, and the primary buildings, which are calculated to cost from $132 to $154, are being kept down to these figures, and this, as above mentioned, is for buildings which are of first-class construction throughout, and in which the wear and tear and the cost of repairs would be very considerably below the similar work in buildings previously erected and of second-class construction.

Such second-class buildings as the Bigelow would cost from 10 to 15 per cent. less than the first-class buildings that were erected by the Board. If the buildings now being erected by the Board were compared with those erected by the School Committee on a basis of the same kind of construction, it would readily be seen that these buildings would have been less expensive than the School Committee's buildings. As a matter of wise economy this Board does not believe it is desirable for the city to erect buildings of such construction as these second-class buildings referred to.

Trusting that the above will answer the inquiry addressed you by the Common Council,

I am respectfully yours,

R. Clipston Sturgis,

Chairman.

MESSAGE OF THE MAYOR

TRANSMITTING THE

CLOSING ARGUMENT OF CORPORATION COUNSEL THOMAS M. BABSON IN FAVOR OF A REDUCTION IN THE PRICE OF GAS.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 20, 1905.

To the City Council:

I transmit herewith a stenographic report of the closing argument of Corporation Counsel Thomas M. Babson before the Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners on February 1, 1905, in favor of a reduction in the price of gas. I recommend that it be printed as a city document.

Respectfully,

Patrick A. Collins,
Mayor.

CLOSING ARGUMENT

OF CORPORATION COUNSEL THOMAS M. BABSON IN FAVOR OF A REDUCTION IN THE PRICE OF GAS.

May it please the Board: There is one thing which my brother Morse said in his closing argument in which I heartily concur, and that is, as to my position in regard to the reduction of the price of gas in certain of the companies as distinguished from the general reduction of the price for all the companies. I wish, therefore, before commencing my argument, to disclaim any desire to have this petition decided on the theory that these companies are not only separate companies but have no common ownership. If you omit the fact of one ownership and say that the charges on the books are genuine and not mere bookkeeping charges, then it follows, as shown by the tabulation of Professor Bemis, that the price of gas ought to be raised in Roxbury and South Boston, kept as it is in the City Proper, and reduced in Brookline, the Back Bay, West Roxbury and Dorchester.

We strenuously contend that these gas companies should not be treated in that way, and will show you why they should not be; but if the Board should hold otherwise, neither the Mayor nor I desire any invidious distinction to be created between the different sections of the city served by the companies owned by the Massachusetts Gas Companies Trustees. With this statement I will proceed with my argument.

The fact that these companies have a common ownership and that that common ownership extends to the New England Gas and Coke Company plant is one of the salient features in this case. So large a proportion of the supply of gas for the City of Boston comes from the New England Gas and Coke Company's plant, through the pipes of the Massachusetts Pipe Line, that it is apparent to an ordinary observer that either the pipe line should have been omitted from this proposed consolidation or the New England Gas and Coke Company should have been included. It is frankly admitted by Mr. Richards, and by the other officers of the company, that, now that there is a common ownership, there exists no reason why the comparatively cheap supply of gas, coming from the pipe line, should be given almost exclusively to the Brookline Company, and the high-priced gas, with a profit of nearly 50 per cent. on it, delivered to the South Boston Gas Light Company. Although the supply of pipe line gas is not sufficient to supply the wants of all the customers of the several Boston companies, yet there is on the average nearly half enough to supply their wants, and it is merely book-keeping which charges to one company gas at 25 cents, to another company gas at 30 cents, to another company gas at 60 cents, and to another company gas at 70 cents.

It is the same with their other expenses. They have a twenty thousand dollar president, two treasurers with an aggregate salary of $17,000, a consulting engineer at a salary of $6,000, and it appears that these salaries are divided around among the different companies with an absolute disregard to either the size of the company, to the amount of business they do, or to any other business reason. Mr. Richards says he knows no reason why the supply of gas is divided as it is, or why these salaries are divided and charged as they are. His only explanation is that in the days of the Whitney management the great bulk of the pipe line gas was given to the Brookline and the other Whitney companies, that in some way, by somebody, these salaries were divided as they are now, and that, as the companies expected soon to be consolidated, they have not changed, since the companies came under a common ownership, the arrangement of the past.

It appears from all the testimony in this case, the admission of the officers of the company, and the revelations made by their own books, that the only way to treat these companies is to treat them as companies having a common ownership, common expenses, and sources of supply which are common to them all. That is, they are really one company to-day, with this important exception, that the property of one company cannot be transferred to another company so long as there remain minority stockholders.

Mr. Morse admits, by his tables and in his argument, that this is the only fair way of looking at these companies.

No satisfactory answer has been made to the inquiries in my opening address. Why is gas sold cheaper in England than in this country? My statement of the prices at which gas was sold abroad has been admitted, with two exceptions, and those were municipal gas plants, which bore no relation to my argument, because I admitted, in advance, that the prices charged by municipalities had very little bearing upon this case. For certain reasons, they might desire to put down the price; they might not make proper charges to depreciation; their bonds might be issued at a much less rate of interest than those of private companies; they might make no charge, in any way, for interest upon their plant. It might be run in the same way as the Post-office Department is run in this country, that is, all the expenses which are charged to the Post-office Department are the actual expenses of transporting the mails, the buildings in which the business is done, the whole cost of the plant which carries it on, the care of those buildings. All these things are furnished and paid for by the Treasury Department, and, as that system of bookkeeping may be carried into municipal ownership anywhere, as it is in the United States, I made no claim that the statistics of these municipal plants bore any relation at all to the prices of private companies. My argument was based upon the average charges made by private companies in England to private consumers.

Mr. Morse has said that there is some unknown source, which he does not mention, from which he gets the figures in relation to two of these municipalities different from mine. I got mine from some standard book of gas statistics; I did not give the name. He got his probably from some book of gas statistics; he did not give the name. Mr. Addicks made a statement entirely different from those, but also from some book of statistics, the name of which he did give. The Addicks table, which is the only attempt which is made here to explain why these differences exist, shows that the net cost of material used in London was 10.10 cents per thousand cubic feet, and was 34.94 cents in Boston. That omits entirely the question of wages, or of anything else which goes into a gas plant. It comes right down to the two materials which are used — oil and coal.

What explanation does this — according to Mr. Morse the ablest gas expert in the country — this famous gas engineer give of these discrepancies? One would have thought that if he were going to testify in this case he would have taken the trouble to find out what the price of gas coal was in London, and how much gas per ton coal would yield, and what was the price of oil in London; but he frankly confesses that in preparing to demolish my tables — preparing to give an answer to them — he carefully refrained from any inquiry at all as to the price of these materials in London, and all that his table shows is that for some reason or other the net price of the material used in manufacturing a thousand feet of gas in London is only about ten cents a thousand cubic feet as compared with substantially 35 cents a thousand cubic feet in Boston.

Now it is apparent to common-sense, and it is apparent to every one who has been in New York, or at Staten Island, and seen the tank steamers loading for London and Liverpool with oil from this country, that the supply of oil comes from the United States, and that its price ought to be increased by whatever is the cost of transportation from this country to London; but allowing that for any reason they sell their oil at the same price in London as here, that they give to the foreigner as a present out of their profits the price which they pay for transportation, it is incredible that the price of oil in London is not fully as high as the price in this country.

Now as to coal, the other one of these raw materials. I do not know, any more than Mr. Addicks knows as to the exact price of coal in London, the exact sum — it varies from year to year — which is paid for coal in Boston delivered at the wharf to these companies. I do not know any more than this famous world-renowned gas engineer knows as to whether from a ton of English coal there is derived more or less gas than there is from gas coal in this country. For some reason this world-renowned man has never taken the trouble to inquire. I do not believe, however, from what I do know of prices of coal here, and of coal there, and of the differences which were stated during the time of the coal famine, when coal was imported from England into this country and at first paid the duties, that there is a difference of more than a dollar a ton, or at the outside more than 25 per cent., in the price of coal. It seems to me, therefore, that there is no explanation of it — no attempt even at explanation — why the bookkeeping charges in this country, as shown by the tables which they have put in, as to what they estimate to be the different proportions of material and labor, etc., which go to the manufacture of a thousand feet of gas, why materials cost three and a half times as much here as there, when the only difference is in the price of coal, and apparently that difference is only about 25 per cent.

Why is it? Why does not this distinguished expert offer some explanation of the fact that the price of residuals is very high in London and the cost of coal low? Why is it that coal apparently costs three and a half times as much in Boston as in London, and yet they can apparently get two or three times as much for a ton of coke in London as they get here?

Mr. Addicks, who is said by my brother to be the greatest expert not only in this country, but in the whole world, has no explanation to offer; has never inquired as to the prices; does not know anything about them; and frankly says that, not knowing their prices, his tables and his comparisons are of absolutely no value.

No explanation has been offered of any of the things concerning the expense accounts of these companies to which I called attention in my opening. I supposed the explanation would be made as to some of them which was made to me orally by my brother Snow, to wit, that it might be accounted for by a difference in bookkeeping; but he makes no explanation, and no attempt at explanation, as to why the expenses for meter-takers and collectors in Boston were three or four times as much per meter as they were in Lynn.

Your Board will recollect the statements which I made in my opening, taken from the reports to your Board, that in Lynn, in 1903, there were 12,289 meters; that the wages of meter-takers, clerical labor in this department, salary and commission of collectors were $4,222.25, the annual expense per meter being 34.3 cents; that in Boston there were 35,663 meters, being about three times as many, and that the annual expense for exactly the same things here in Boston was $75,690.81, being a net expense for meters of $2.12 instead of the 34.3 cents in Lynn.

No explanation whatever has been offered of the statistics and tables which I brought in showing that coal and oil are apparently purchased cheaper in Lowell than in Boston.

It would be plainly apparent to any one who considered the matter in the way of common sense that as Lowell is not upon tide-water, and has not the advantage of tide-water, coal and oil could be landed cheaper in Boston than in Lowell.

No explanation is offered as to why they do not get as much by a very large per cent. for their coal tar in Boston as they do in Lowell, in Lynn and in Waltham.

Now, if the Board will bear with me for a moment, I will take up the extraordinary statements which were made by my brother Morse in his opening, and the tables which he introduced to support them. According to table 3 which he introduced, the dividends from the eight gas companies would amount to $595,160. He says on page 618 of the record that the net loss from operating the New England Gas and Coke plant was $171,352. He shows by this table that if proper charges were made for depreciation, etc., this sum is the only possible revenue from gas dividends, because all the rest of the earnings ought to be charged off except what was taken for interest on the debt. If we call the debt of these companies due to the Massachusetts Gas Companies $5,500,000, and the interest on that 5 per cent., it would show a revenue to the Massachusetts Gas Companies from the interest on the part of the debt of the gas companies due to it of $275,000. That added to $423,808, the dividends from the gas companies less the loss coming from the operations of the Coke Company, we have a sum of $698,808 to pay the dividends on fifty million dollars worth of Massachusetts Gas Companies' certificates and the expenses of running that company. If you deduct from this $698,808 a sum for legal expenses and for the salaries of the officers, you would have left a sum not exceeding $650,000 to pay the dividends on the $25,000,000 preferred stock, which at 4 per cent. requires a million dollars.

Mr. Addicks' table shows a still worse result for the Massachusetts Gas Companies Trust. If it were to be taken seriously it would show that all that can be safely paid is a dividend of 4½ per cent. on the capital stock and debts. The capital stock and debts, less the bonds of the Brookline Gas Company not owned by the Trust, amount to about $15,000,000. Four and one-half per cent. on that sum would be about $675,000 as the net income of the Massachusetts Gas Companies from their investment in the stock and debts of these companies that are to be consolidated. Subtracting from that $675,000 what Mr. Morse says is the loss on the operation of the New England Gas and Coke Company, to wit, $171,352, leaves $503,648 as the probable net income of a company capitalized at fifty million dollars.

I do not believe a word of these tables. They are simply the efforts of expert jugglers with figures. If true, they show the Massachusetts Gas Companies' common stock worth little more than the paper on which the certificates of ownership are printed. They show, if the Addicks table is correct, that the preferred stock cannot pay more than 2 per cent. dividends instead of 4 which is pledged.

These figures are contradicted by all the known facts. It is a fact known to your Board, and to every one who is acquainted at all with the gas situation in Boston, that the gentlemen who afterwards formed with their friends the Massachusetts Gas Companies Trust purchased the stock of the four Addicks companies, which was pledged as security for the twelve million or more bonds, for eleven million dollars, thereby assuming the debts of the four companies, making a consideration of at least twelve million dollars that they paid for those four companies, paying it after what they said and declared was the fullest examination of those companies and of their earning capacity. In addition to the twelve million dollars — the eleven paid in cash, and a million dollars in debts — I assume they had large expenses connected with the matter. That they were not alone in their judgment of the value of these companies is shown by the fact that counsel very learned in the law were retained all over the country to come here and in some months of litigation to try to upset this sale on the ground that this man was purchased to keep silence, and the other man was purchased to keep silence, and that the thing was a fraud, that Kidder, Peabody & Co. and their associates had adopted underhand means to get this stock and the control of four of the companies mentioned in this petition for a sum which, with expenses, must considerably have exceeded twelve millions of dollars.

In addition to these known facts we have the character of the men who have formed this company. I agree with brother Morse that they are among the foremost men in this community, as far as I know them. He says that they are substantially the same men who have control of the Elevated Railroad, and who are managing it to the utmost satisfaction of this community, and better than any other street railway system in the world is managed; and I agree with him. As far as I know the gentlemen who are connected with this company, I believe in their financial honor, I believe in their financial integrity, I believe the statements which they have made to the people who subscribed for the stock and to the people who underwrote these securities are true, and believing them to be true, I believe these tables to be absolutely incorrect. I do not believe that Mr. Winsor, or Kidder, Peabody & Co., and the other people who are connected with the flotation of this trust, would be distributing the figures which they have distributed and are still continuing to distribute concerning the ownership of these properties, and concerning the net income to be derived from the ownership of these properties, if the figures which they gave forth were not absolutely correct, and I turn from Philip drunk with the intoxication of a legal battle, juggling with figures for a certain purpose, to Philip sober, to the circulars of the people who have charge of the Massachusetts Gas Companies Trust, who are the people who really know concerning the real income of these companies.

It will be seen by the circular of Kidder, Peabody & Co., which I put into this case, that the net earnings of the subsidiary companies for nine months ending June 30, 1903, were $1,489,881.95. Mr. Winsor, upon the stand, says that of those earnings for the nine months $1,048,000 was derived from these gas companies, and the balance, substantially four hundred thousand dollars and odd, was derived from the New England Coke Company and its works.

Now I ask you what credence you can place upon tables when the most honest and upright of men in this community say that the net earnings during nine months of the New England Gas and Coke Company were upwards of $400,000, and counsel for these companies states here in a speech, which is published abroad in all the papers of the country, that the net loss from that company was $171,880.71, a precise figure?

I shall therefore take for granted that the statements contained in this circular, and the statements which were made by Mr. Winsor, under oath upon the stand, were correct, and that the net earnings which could be paid safely by these gas companies to the Massachusetts Gas Companies were $1,048,000 for the nine months of their fiscal year.

By a ready process of mathematics, if the earnings were $1,048,000 for nine months of their fiscal year, the earnings for three months would be one-third of that amount, or somewhat over $340,000. That is, making some allowance for the fact that some of the missing months may be summer months, when the consumption of gas is less, and the net profits less, we come to the conclusion, in spite of all these tables — for they are either bogus or false, or this firm, composed of the most honorable people in Boston, are liars — that the net earnings of this company during its fiscal year which can safely be paid to the Massachusetts Gas Trust will be $1,300,000, instead of the figures which are presented by these tables.

I shall start therefore with this as an established proposition, that the net earnings of these companies for the fiscal year to which these statistics allude will be at least $1,300,000.

If you allow in round numbers $9,000,000 for stock and $6,000,000 for debts, and call the interest on the debt 5 per cent., or $300,000, and a fair dividend on the stock 6 per cent., or $540,000, what these companies really need is $840,000, and any reduction which would shrink their earnings from $1,300,000 to $840,000 can be well afforded by them if — I say "if" — 6 per cent. is a fair return to be paid on stock now.

We have one advantage in this case which I do not think has been presented by any other case which has ever come before this or any other tribunal which has undertaken to fix a price which should give a fair return upon the capital which was fairly employed in the business of the company. It is impossible to raise the cry which is so often heard, and which is sometimes a just one, that the interests of the widows and orphans who have invested in stocks should not be imperiled. If it is a fact in regard to a certain stock, as it often is, that the investor (who is usually represented as a widow or as an orphan, although as a general thing I do not think the investor is either, but for the argument he is always made a "she" or an orphan) has bought it because the stock has paid a 10 per cent. dividend for a number of years, and has been selling at from $200 to $250 per share for a number of years, the purchaser who has bought at $200 or $250 a share has some rights, moral and equitable, at least, to the 10 per cent. dividend because it has been allowed to be paid for a number of years, and because he or she has bought it at a price fixed by that rate of dividend, and if a less rate of dividend is paid the person who invests is going to lose. Now, fortunately, in this case that argument cannot be raised; it has absolutely no application to this case at all. Whatever the Massachusetts Gas Companies may be — I call it a trust because trustees own the property (Mr. Winsor repudiated the name) — it is not a widow, and it is not an orphan. It did not buy these stocks at any particular price at all. It bought virtually the assets of four of them at an auction sale; it got the rest of them, including the New England Gas and Coke Company, at unknown figures, and prices not market prices, or anything else, by an exchange of securities at rates I do not know anything about, and if I did know it would not make the least difference in the world to any of us, because I do not know, when they exchanged securities, as to whether the securities which they got were more or less valuable than the securities which they gave; the stocks, none of them were bought in the market at any price at all; they are not owned by the ordinary investor; they are not owned by any widow or orphan; and it comes right down to this, that these people, for their own purposes, have bought the assets of these companies, and the one question is a philosophical question now, freed entirely from the widows and orphans argument, What is a fair return to-day upon gas stock?

Now I think these circulars tend to fix that about as conclusively as anything that I know of. I would rather, for I do not know how it would seem to other people, being, as my brother Moran says, dull and stupid — I sometimes think I should be a poor investor —

Mr. Moran. — I have changed my mind since hearing you. You are making a splendid argument.

Mr. Babson. — I think I would rather have the stock of an operating gas company where I really had something to do, theoretically, at least, with the management of the business than to hold a certificate saying that I am entitled to one five-millionth part of certain securities which are held by some holding company; and therefore I think, in my dull and stupid way, that the stock of these gas companies, or of any gas company, would be higher in proportion to the amount of dividends paid than the stock of any holding company, whether that holding company be the Massachusetts Gas Companies, or whether that holding company be the Massachusetts Electric Companies.

Kidder & Peabody state in substance in their circular that this 4 per cent. dividend, which is assured absolutely by these ten earnings, entitles the stock to a price of eighty, because at eighty it yields 5 per cent., and the consensus of opinion among investors in this community is that that is about right; and with all the disadvantages of this litigation, with all the disadvantages connected with the proposed consolidation, the community is purchasing this stock at a little over eighty; therefore I think that it is established substantially by the admission of these people themselves, and by the admission of the market, that 5 per cent. is a good fair return — one which will warrant a market price of a hundred or more upon a gas stock; and for the purpose of my argument I have assumed that instead of 5 per cent., which they themselves in their circulars and elsewhere have assumed is a fair dividend, which will sustain a market price of a hundred, I have assumed the very generous dividend of 6 per cent.

Now there is one other subject — I will glance at it briefly, for I am afraid I am wearying the tribunal — and that is this: All the decisions of the courts say that a company is entitled to only a fair ordinary return upon the property which is actually used in its business. That is, if a company has, we will say, three or four hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds or property of other kinds which it does not use in its business, that property is not to be considered in the fixing of rates.

Now it is apparent from the testimony in this case, and from the knowledge which this Board possesses in common with the rest of the community, that this company has a great deal of such property. I will speak of only one prominent feature of it, and that is the store upon West street, in the heart of the retail dry goods business in Boston, a place which is worth $275,000, in my opinion. I do not know what Mr. Howe called it. Although they occupy as an office the upper stories of that building, yet that property is not used in any way in the gas business. It ought to have only the same return, and no more, which like property gets in the neighborhood, and with the chance for future growth — any piece of real estate in that territory, from Boylston street down to Bromfield street, including particularly the great retail streets, Winter street, Temple place and West street, can be sold with the greatest of readiness on a 3½ to 4 per cent. net return, because the taxes are paid on the property.

Then, before turning to the cost of manufacturing, which I will take up, I will say one thing concerning the cost of manufacturing in the future, and, as throwing some light upon it, I will bore you by reading an extract from the Evening Transcript — I suppose it is the same in all the papers.

"OIL PRICES CUT AGAIN.

"The Standard Oil Co. Makes Reductions on Crude Oil.

"Pittsburg, Pa., January 31.

"The Standard Oil Company today reduced the price on all grades of crude oil. A reduction of three cents a gallon was made on high grades, and two cents on the lower grades. The four previous cuts in the prices were made December 15th and 28th and on January 4th and 10th. Though no reason was advanced by the Standard Oil Company, it was believed that it had been found necessary to reduce prices considerably in order to dispose of the surplus supplies which were being accumulated from the output of the Kansas wells."

Mr. Snow. — I am informed, Mr. Babson, that that is the price which the Standard Oil Company pays to the oil producer. They have not reduced the price at which the gas companies buy oil. That is crude oil.

Mr. Babson. — For the purposes of this case, brother Snow, neither you nor I are in the oil business, but being a dispatch it was obviously sent to all the newspapers in the country as an exact statement of —

Mr. Snow. — I am simply calling attention to the statement which was in the paper. That is crude oil, and not refined oil.

Mr. Babson. — I know, but I understand that what is used in the manufacture of your gas is not the refined petroleum, which is burned in the lamps, and is not the absolutely crude oil, but the lower grades of the oil, and the cheaper grades of the oil, and that, I understand, is the thing to which attention is called.

Before these reductions which are alluded to in the paper, and which this distinguished dealer in oil now, instead of gas, which I thought he dealt in before, says he does not think are correct — in addition to that I am informed by Professor Bemis, who has seen these contracts — I have not seen them, because I was not allowed to see them — that applying the present prices of coal oil and residuals, or the prices of coal oil and residuals as they were before these last cuts, as shown by these contracts, the Commission will discover, as I am informed by Professor Bemis, that the cost of manufacture to-day in Boston is over four cents less at each of these works per thousand feet of gas made and sold than it was last year, and that the examination of these present contracts will show it.

Now, passing on to my argument, I would say that it fully appears by these tables that the cost of gas made at the Bay State works was about 41 cents, even as exhibited by the figures put forth by the gentlemen connected with these companies. Mr. Walter Addicks said that there is no reason, as far as he knows, why the gas cannot be made as cheaply at the new works at Commercial Point as it is made at the Bay State. I think that it is fair to assume, making allowances for the fact that these plants, some of them, are run for only a short time in the year — I think it is fair to assume that if the figures in the contracts are what Professor Bemis tells me, that the material cost is now four cents a thousand feet less than it was in the year 1904, gas can be made in Boston by either the Commercial Point or Bay State works at 37 cents per thousand cubic feet. It was made at 41 cents under favorable conditions last year, according to the reports, and is undoubtedly being made to-day at a price four cents less than that, or 37 cents. This is entirely outside of the supply of gas from the Massachusetts Pipe Line.

These companies are really one company now, the distinction of the 25-cent gas and the 30-cent gas has disappeared, and the fair average price of pipe line gas to this one company, owned by the same lot of people, is the average between those two, or 27½ cents; and we find these people therefore having a supply of gas from the gas companies' own works, their operating plants, which will be 37 cents this year, if Professor Bemis' information is correct, and you have the contracts which show its correctness, and an outside supply at 27½ cents. It is presumable that they will take all the 27½-cent gas which the New England Gas and Coke Company will sell, and that the cost of their gas, therefore, will be considerably less than 37 cents. But I will take, for the purpose of my argument, the price of 37 cents; I will say that the supply of gas from the New England Gas and Coke works is of so uncertain and variable a nature that they have to keep more or less of these works prepared to start up, and on that account it will cost them about as much, in addition to the 37 cents, as they will save on account of purchasing the 27½-cent gas from the pipe company; I will therefore take the cost of their own gas, as made under favorable circumstances, 37 cents, as the basis of my argument. Adding to the 37 cents the 25 cents which is shown by these tables to cover the fair distributing cost of this gas and all other expenses, including taxes, it shows a cost to these companies of the gas delivered to the consumers at the burners of about 62 cents a thousand cubic feet, leaving a profit of 38 cents a thousand cubic feet.

Now, if it were to be taken that a reduction of 20 cents would be accompanied by no increase in the sale of gas, with no increase in the profits, 20 cents would be too large, because 20 cents is more than one-half of the 38 cents profit, and it would leave them therefore a return of $600,000 instead of a return of $1,300,000, which they now have, according to Mr. Winsor's statement; but I contend, and the statistics all bear me out in that contention, that a reduction in the price of gas is accompanied by so large an increased use of gas that the profits do not shrink in proportion to the cut, and usually are larger after the cut than before. If you suppose that the reduction in price will not be accompanied by an increase in consumption of gas, the figures which I have presented do not show a possibility of a reduction of much more than ten cents, but they do show that, because they show there is a net profit of 38 cents to be applied to interest and dividends, and that will more than pay the 6 per cent. on the stock and the 5 per cent. upon their debts. The amount of profits of the eight companies shown by the circulars of Kidder, Peabody & Co. will be $1,300,000 this fiscal year. This represents 38 cents profit made on each thousand cubic feet sold; $\frac{10}{38}$ of that sum would be about $342,000, which subtracted from $1,300,000 would leave $958,000. We have already seen that $850,000 would pay 6 per cent. on the capital stock and 5 per cent. on the debt, so that the price of gas could be reduced to 90 cents, and there would be enough profit left to pay the interest on the debt and 6 per cent. on the stock, and leave a surplus of $100,000. A reduction to 90 cents could therefore be made, even if no additional gas was sold as a consequence of the reduction.

But I contend that all these statistics show that the immediate result of a reduction of price is accompanied by an increase in the consumption of gas. It is undoubtedly true that if you carry on a business in a country store of the usual size you have to make a much larger percentage of profit in order to pay the running expenses of your store and a fair return for yourself than you have to make if you are carrying on a business like that of Jordan, Marsh Company, and that is equally true in the gas business. "In the bubbles," said the barkeeper to his apprentice, "are the profits; when you draw your beer draw it so that it is almost all foam, because in that are the profits of this business"; so in the gas business, after you get a sum sufficient to pay the salaries of your officers, the cost of repairs of the works, the cost of keeping up the service and the meters, every thousand cubic feet of gas that you send through those pipes is profit over and above the manufacturing cost. That is, if you say that the profits on the first three thousand feet which are delivered to me pay the running expenses of the company, then if the company delivers to me two thousand additional feet it makes clear from me all the difference between the manufacturing cost, 37 cents, and the price that I pay for the gas.

Now, what do the statistics show in this State — and I will not go beyond them — in regard to what has happened when there has been a reduction in the price? In my opening I read and put in certain tables for Lowell and Lynn and Boston, and said that I would argue from them at the close.

We will take Lowell. In 1900 and 1901 the price was a dollar; the profits were $97,706.43; we will call those profits 100 per cent., and of course there was no reduction that year, and no percentage of reduction. In 1901–2 they reduced the price — I am speaking now of the net price — to 92.6 cents. Their profits fell from $97,706.43 to $96,026.99, being a fall of only 1.7 per cent.; while in the very next year, 1902–3, the price was 90.9 cents, and the profits went up to $126,902.67, and the percentage of profits to 129.9 per cent. That is, in Lowell, a reduction in the price of gas from $1 to 90.9 cents, net price, sent up their profits from $97,706.43 in two years to $126,902.67.

We will take the experience of Lynn. In 1902–3 the net price there to consumers was 99.4 cents; the profits were $109,538.82. In 1903–4 the price was 90.2 cents, being a reduction of nearly 10 cents, and the profits went up from $109,538.82 to $114,200.74, being an increase of profits, owing to the reduction in price, of 4.3 per cent. If the same percentages of increase were applied to Boston, instead of my brother's mourning at this reduction of price he ought to rejoice. The investors in the stock of the Massachusetts Gas Trust, instead of having to take the paltry 2 per cent. dividend allowed to them by the tables of Mr. Addicks, would then get not only the present dividend on the preferred stock, but would get a dividend, if the New England Gas and Coke Company still continued to pay its $500,000 or $600,000, of 2 or 3 per cent. on the common stock; and, I think, if there was a reduction in the price of gas, and I could borrow the money, I would go down and buy the common stock of the Massachusetts Gas Companies Trust.

We will see what happened in Cambridge. In 1897–8 the price was $1.14; their profits were $106,180.98. In 1899–1900 the price was 99.8 cents. They had reduced it nearly 15 cents, and their profits were $103,241.65. So that a reduction in price of 14 cents in Cambridge was followed by a diminution in profits of only 2.6 per cent.

I think that it is safe to argue from these tables, and I do it without fear of contradiction, that when the price of gas is reduced the profits of a company almost immediately increase, because the people commence to use gas for new purposes. A man may be tempted to give up gas and try lighting his shop by electricity. If he hears that the price of gas has gone down, instead of making that change he immediately puts in a large number of additional gas burners and additional gas fixtures, and one thing and another, to illuminate his store, because, he says, "the price of gas is cheap; I will have my store illuminated brightly and make it attractive, and I will not have anything to do with the electric companies at all." Every woman — and no person is quicker in pursuit of bargains than the average woman — the moment she hears that there is a bargain to be got in gas immediately cries out for a gas heater in the front room; says that it has been cold the last winter, and she does not know any reason why, at the present price of gas, she cannot put in a heater. There is an immediate pressure brought on the head of the family to have a gas range put in at once. People who have been running their elevators and machinery with a naphtha engine, or with water, immediately put in a gas engine. From a hundred different sources, in a hundred different ways, springs up this demand as soon as people are satisfied with the price, and find that they are getting a bargain; and if, as Patrick Henry says, "There is but one light by which my feet are guided, and that is the light of experience," experience shows that the one thing which tends to make these companies vigilant, which tends to make them economical, which tends to make them put in new improvements, which tends to make them cater for business is to put down the price of gas, and then they do hustle and they do get business. This idea that the gas business is anything so very mysterious seems to me erroneous in many respects. There is my friend Mr. Richards, who, I understand, two or three years ago had made a great success in the tobacco business, had made money, and was counted an exceedingly prosperous, active, and intelligent business man; in 1903 he knew no more about gas than I, or any other person who burns gas in his house; he was put in at the head of this company, with the magnificent salary of $20,000 a year — and I hope he will earn it by giving us cheaper gas in Boston, and by giving the best management that there ever has been. Gas is a business, like any other business. The engineers have to see to it that the system of pipes is well arranged, and that the manufacture of the gas is carried on economically; but the real secret of it is in this the same as in any other business — and the wages and the pay go to the men who can do the job — the secret is to hire the man who can get the business for you, and the man who can make money out of the business after it is got. I think that here they have secured the right man in the right place.

In one thing these Massachusetts companies are at a disadvantage under the Massachusetts law — and although it has many advantages it has that serious disadvantage — that it tends to produce a feeling of lethargy in the management of the gas company. There is a certain vis inertia about the whole thing. A gas company puts in machinery, and it hustles a little for business until it gets up so that it has a surplus, and it pays 10 per cent. dividends, and then it comes to the conclusion that it will never be allowed to pay any more dividends, and it will never be allowed to make any more profits, and then they sit idle in their chairs and they vote increases of salaries and do one thing and another so as to cut down this nominal surplus. They do not care about business. They do not care about extending. They are making all the money that the community allows them to make, and that is the end of it. But the moment the price of gas is reduced in a community and these same officers are forced to hustle for business, and are forced to consider how they can make money out of that business, that moment the business commences to increase and improvements are made. I say that out of this 37 cents or 38 cents profit, if a reduction is made of 20 cents, leaving a profit of 18 cents per thousand feet on the amount of gas which is sold, the amount of gas sold will so increase that the 18 cents profit on the amount of gas so sold will within a year or two exceed the profits which are now being made on a much less amount of gas, with a nominal profit of 38 cents.

Mr. Morse at the end of his address practically concedes that there ought to be some reduction in the price of gas, but says that now is not an opportune time, and that if we will wait three years a reduction undoubtedly will be made by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company. Three years to Mr. Morse, who seemingly has found the secret of perpetual youth, may seem a short time, but we prefer to have the reduction made now. Although we have every confidence in the present good intentions of Mr. Morse and the incorporators, they may, engrossed in their many money-making devices, forget to redeem these pledges, and we wish the reduction to be ordered by your Board, "Lest they forget."

CORPORATION COUNSEL'S OPINION

AS TO

RESPONSIBILITY FOR CARE OF PASSAGEWAY UNDER THE WEST ROXBURY BRANCH OF THE PROVIDENCE RAILROAD ON SOUTH STREET AT THE ROSLINDALE STATION.

Law Department,
Boston, March 29, 1905.

To the Board of Aldermen:

Gentlemen, — I am requested by your Board to inform it who in my opinion is responsible for the care of the public passageway under the railroad at the Roslindale station laid out by the Special Commission appointed to abolish the grade crossings on the West Roxbury branch of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad.

I find by the report of the Commission that South street was discontinued at the line of the railroad and that a portion of said street was carried underneath the railroad in the form of a public footway. This was intended and spoken of as a substitute in part for South street.

In my opinion, therefore, this subway is a public footway of the City of Boston, and is to be maintained and taken care of by the city in the same way that public footways laid out by the Street Commissioners are to be taken care of — that is, by the Street Department.

Yours respectfully,

Thomas M. Babson,
Corporation Counsel.

In Board of Aldermen, April 3, 1905.

Ordered to be printed and placed on file.

Attest:

Edward J. Donovan,
City Clerk.

COMMUNICATION

FROM THE

CORPORATION COUNSEL AS TO PROGRESS MADE ON THE ABOLITION OF THE DUDLEY STREET GRADE CROSSING.

Law Department,
Boston, March 29, 1905.

The Board of Aldermen :

Gentlemen, — I am requested by your Board to inform it what progress has been made in the matter of the abolition of the Dudley street grade crossing and the cause of the delay.

The hearings in regard to this crossing before the Commissioners on the abolition ended last week. The matter is now in the hands of the Commission, and I expect a report in a short time.

There have been a great many different hearings, and a great deal of evidence has been placed before the Commissioners. The principal cause for the many hearings and for the delay has been the inability of the parties interested to agree upon a plan for abolishing this grade crossing. The principal point of controversy was as to the height of the railroad above Dudley street at the point where it is to cross the street. Plans were introduced by the city, by the railroad, by the elevated road, by certain outside parties, and by a member of the Commission. It seemingly was a very difficult matter to decide as to how steep a grade could be given to the railroad without incommoding travel on it, and how much the street could be depressed without making the grade so sharp as to incommode travel upon the street.

I trust that in a short time the Commissioners will report a plan and that the work will be commenced upon the crossing this spring.

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS M. BABSON.
Corporation Counsel.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, April 3, 1905.

Ordered to be printed and placed on file.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

TRANSMITTING A

COMMUNICATION FROM THE WATER COMMISSIONER, IN ANSWER TO AN ORDER OF THE COMMON COUNCIL — APRIL 27, 1905 — REQUESTING INFORMATION REGARDING COST AND LOCATION OF NEW AND OF REPLACING OLD WATER PIPES.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 4, 1905.

To the Common Council:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Water Commissioner, in answer to your order requesting information concerning the location of new and the replacing of old water pipes, the estimated cost of carrying out the work on the said pipes, and whether said estimated cost will be the cost of the work as done by the city or by contract.

Respectfully,

Patrick A. Collins,
Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE WATER COMMISSIONER,
CITY HALL, BOSTON, May 4, 1905.

HON. PATRICK A. COLLINS,
Mayor:

SIR, — In response to the order of the Common Council passed April 27, 1905, requesting the Water Commissioner to inform the Common Council at its next meeting where it proposed to construct new and replace old water pipes, and the estimated cost of the same, and whether said estimated cost as shall be given will be the cost of the work as done by the city or by contract, I submit herewith a list of streets in which it is proposed to relay and enlarge the water mains at an estimated expense of $1,380,000, based on the supposition that the work will be done by the department force. In addition to the above it is proposed to extend the water pipe system by laying high and low service mains in Congress street across Fort Point Channel to South Boston, also a 20-inch main in Codman street, Dorchester, and mains in such newly constructed streets as may be required under chapter 323 of the Acts of 1891 when notified by the Street Department, together with such other extensions of mains as may be needed. It is expected that the $330,000 loan asked for will cover such portion of the work named as it will be necessary to do during the present year.

Very respectfully yours,

E. S. SULLIVAN,
Water Commissioner.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

CONCERNING

ITEMS REQUIRED IN MAKING UP A LOAN BILL FOR THE PRESENT YEAR.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 18, 1905.

To the City Council:

I transmit for your consideration, in the making up of a loan bill for this year, a list of items required in order to meet the most pressing needs of the public service.

Assuming that you accept Chap. 392 of the Acts of the current year, it will be necessary to provide the entire amount authorized ($1,500,000) for school sites and school buildings. As stated elsewhere, I petitioned the Legislature for the passage of a more rational act, whereby we could borrow $1,000,000 or less this year, and $500,000 or less in each of the three next years, according to our needs. But the Legislature, ignoring our plea for the better method, passed this act, and we are compelled to take it or arrest the progress of building schools necessary to shelter our school children.

The items amounting to $33,000 to meet deficits caused by executions of court should be met at once, for charges like these cannot be postponed.

The extension of the wharf at Long Island and the building of a shed thereon ought to be provided for early this year, so that the improvements may be completed before the winter.

The three items for bridge improvements are pressing.

The coal-pocket for the Ferry Division ought to have been provided for long ago, but conditions did not warrant it. It is now a matter of imperative necessity.

The next item on the schedule calls for $12,000, made necessary by a mandate of the United States.

The establishment of "The Franklin Union" will carry into effect, in the best way the Managers of the Fund can interpret it, the intent of Benjamin Franklin, and the appropriation by the city of $100,000 for a site for the Union will insure a gift of $400,000 for endowment, which will produce $20,000 a year for the running expenses of the Union when built by the Managers and turned over to the City Council.

The item of $250,000 for "Highways, Making of," must come out of our borrowing capacity this year, to make up what we cannot borrow outside the debt limit under present conditions. The whole amount needed is $600,000, $350,000 of which we can borrow outside the debt limit, and the remaining $250,000 we must provide within it.

The amount for Street Improvements is but $250,000, which is $50,000 less than last year, and $350,000 less than the year before. This is greatly to be regretted, but no better provision seems to be possible.

The other items enumerated cannot possibly be ignored or postponed to another year, while if we provide the $1,500,000 for school sites and buildings this year, it will not be necessary to make any loans for the purpose next year, and attention can then be given to other demands for public improvements.

By reference to the schedule annexed it will be seen that if the loans indicated and recommended be authorized, there will be left to the city a borrowing power of only $97,018.74. This is a very small amount to satisfy executions of court and emergencies for which no specific appropriations are made; and I therefore earnestly recommend that it be reserved for those purposes.

Respectfully,

PATRICK A. COLLINS,

Mayor.
